WELCOME

YOU SEXY BASTARDS

SOMETIMES, READERS, IT'S HARD to put into words how grateful we are to all of you who read the mag, and to all you dudes and dudettes, from Afghanistan to Aberdeen, who send us twisted messages of support. It's like the lifeblood of FRONT, the petrol in our engine, the cheery rocket up our anus. We aim to please, and we hope we've done so again with this grundle-busting bastard of an issue.

For starters, we've got India and Hannah on holiday in Mallorca, partying hard with a minimal amount of clothing between them. Plus, there's loads of other shit so hot it would burn even the bumhole of the Devil himself. And then we've only gone and revamped the FRONT website, with new girl pics, sexy videos and a section for snaps of your, er, pets.

Now go get flicking and clicking. We love you all.

BEHIND-THE-SCENES BOLLOCKS

VIDEO DUDE MEETS QT

Former workie turned FRONT video wizard John Wace travelled back in time and met a young Quentin Tarantino, apparently. Wait, hang on... No, it's Jordan Pundik from New Found Glory, hanging out at Slam Dunk Leeds. That makes a lot more sense.

BEHIND THE SCENES ON THE COVER SHOOT

It's not all fun and games on a cover shoot - sometimes you need to strenuously sit by a pool dangling your feet in the water. Hayley (ace), Stoney (drunk), Steve (old), Adam (growing), Carissa (sexy) and Becky (topless) all made it back in one piece, thank fuck.

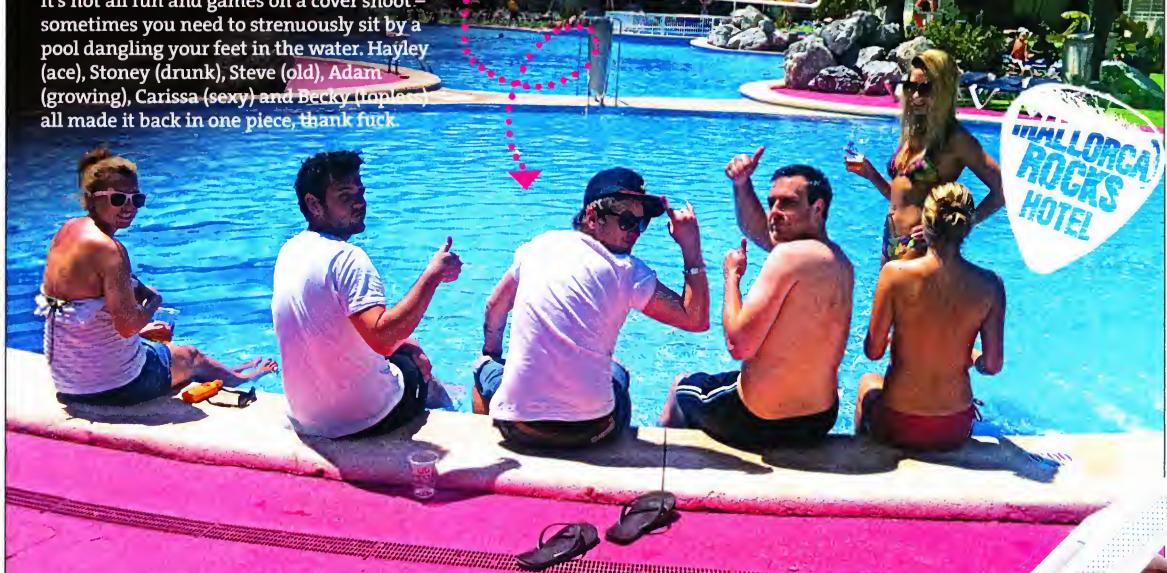

DO NOT TRUST THIS MAN

Australian web monkey Stoney set a new low standard by turning up to work two hours late, absolutely arseholed. As punishment, we made him take to the streets in a bikini, but he was so drunk and Australian that he didn't care.

TRASH TALK TRASH HOUSE THEN CLEAN IT

Not only is there an ace behind-the-scenes video of our Trash Talk piece on frontarmy.co.uk, but Production Editor Sam ended up getting so pissed with the band that he let them stay round his flat. It was all very rock and fucking roll, apart from the point where they did the dishes after their Sam dinner. That was a bit weird.

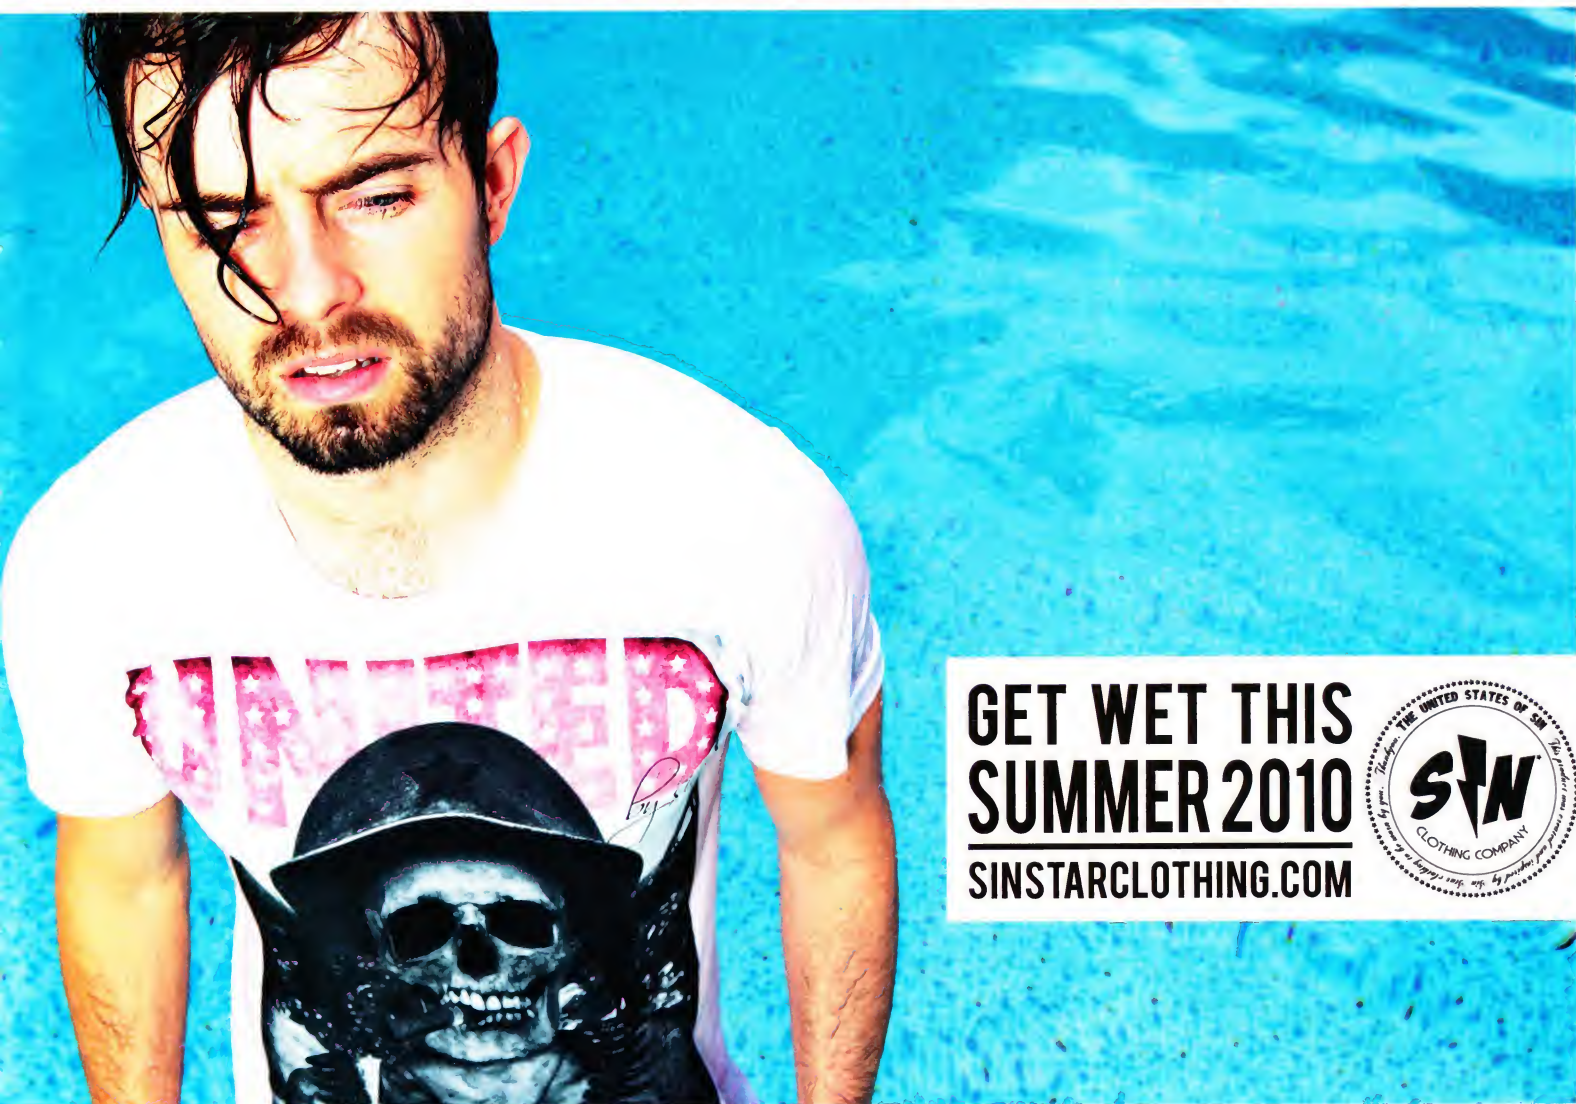

ROCKET FUEL: WHAT GOT US THROUGH 144

Yet another month when we received sweet piss-all in terms of free booze, although we'd like to thank Krispy Kreme for sending us a delicious box of their amazing doughnuts, which we ate in mere seconds like the vultures we are.

OFFICIAL: FRONT RUINS LIVES

Been buying your awesome mag recently, and have now hungoverly stumbled across not just Mellisa but also Carla Pocock. Fuck me! Where do you find these girls? She's like a cross between Karen O and marshmallows in a bowl of Lucky Charms – a source of infinite win. Not much point in leaving the house after that, surely it'll just be a disappointing world of shit. Are you trying to make life harder for everyone, you utter bastards?

ANONYMOUS, VIA TEXT

What can we say, anonymous texter? We feel your pain, but you've gotta leave the house at some point, or else you'll end up running out of toilet paper and food, and have to wipe your bum with the cardboard inner tube... then eat it.

FAQs

YOUR BURNING QUESTIONS ANSWERED

NOSES SPECIAL!

Q: HOW BAD IS NOSE-PICKING?

A: DEPENDS. If you're in a job interview or asking a girl out and you're buried up to the second knuckle clawing a cornflake-like world-beater from your nostril, it's pretty fucking shit. Healthwise, though, it could be worse. The main thing you're risking is nosebleeds, said to effect about a quarter of nose-pickers. There's also the possibility of nasal infection, getting stuff wedged up there and, if you're a proper fucking maniac, getting a brain infection through the sheer shit-load of mank you're letting get up there. You dirty fucking bastard, you.

Q: CAN YOU REALLY PUNCH SOMEONE'S NOSE INTO THEIR BRAIN AND KILL 'EM?

A: NOTHING NICOLAS CAGE DOES

in Con Air is remotely unfeasible, so it stands to reason that sending bits of nasal bone shards into someone's grey matter and killing the life out of them makes utter sense.

Howevs, while it's entirely possible to kill someone with a single twat to the conk, it's not about stabbing their mind with bone splinters. There's not enough mass in the septum for it to get into your skull without significantly more force than a punch can do. Any nose-punch deaths are caused in the same way as any big fuck-off impact to the skull – massive brain haemorrhages and the suchlike. Don't do it, kids.

ARE THERE QUESTIONS BURNING DIRTY GREAT HOLES IN YOUR BRAIN? WE KNOW EVERYTHING THERE IS TO BE KNOWN, SO GET IN TOUCH, WHY DON'T YOU

UNSERE DEUTSCHEN IST BAAD!

Hi, FRONT guys. I don't mean to be an absolute bore, but I'm afraid your German is wrong in the Win At Life This Summer feature. It should be "Deine Augen sehen we Engels Titten aus". No apostrophe needed. Love the mag, by the way.

THE SMIDDLER

Bien! You inadvertently sat our secret-mini-modern-languages exam and passed with flying colours. The reward is a place at the University of Nitpicking Arseholes, based at Dickhead Campus. Nah, we love you really.

STOKED ABOUT ALT GIRL

Dear FRONT, I'm guessing that there has been a misprint somewhere along the line? In your last few issues I noticed there were a surprising amount of girls in the Alt Girl DIY section from Stoke-on-Trent. However, they weren't the usual knuckle-dragging behemoths we call 'women' in my unfortunate hometown of Stoke. They were, well, hot. Have you got your geography fucked up?

ADAM STEELE, STOKE (PRESUMABLY)

It's no mistake, Adam: Stoke is officially full of hotties, if our research is anything to go by. Yep, both Robbie Williams and Max Beesley are from your fine city, and they're, like, total hunks. Oh yeah, and there are loads of fit Alt Girls from there too. Fact.

A DRUNK EMO WRITES

WTF?! The people want an emo cover. Give us Vikki Blows and Mellisa from Kent. Hot! By the way, if I wasn't drunk I'd come round and do the shoot myself, so do it before I do.

ANGUS, READING

Angus, this has been the most passionate outpouring of emo-orientated feelings we've received since Newt from Hollyoaks had a haircut.

THE REAL WINNER IS MUSIC

I agree there really is no winner between Iron Maiden and AC/DC. Both awesome. But I believe I'm the real winner as I'm off to both Download and Sonisphere. I know how to have a good time.

STEVE HATTON, PLYMOUTH

Too right, Mr Festivals, in this age of conflict and general bastardry it's nice that we can all come together in the name of sweat, disgusting alcohol and hard fucking rock. See you there, dude!

DENNIS HOPPER: A TRIBUTE

Just bought the new issue the other day, and it turns out Dennis Hopper died on the same day. How many more geniuses are going to be taken from this cruel world? As long as you're here, FRONT, everything will be okay. Hope you outlive everybody and take over like you plan to, and make all the wrongs right.

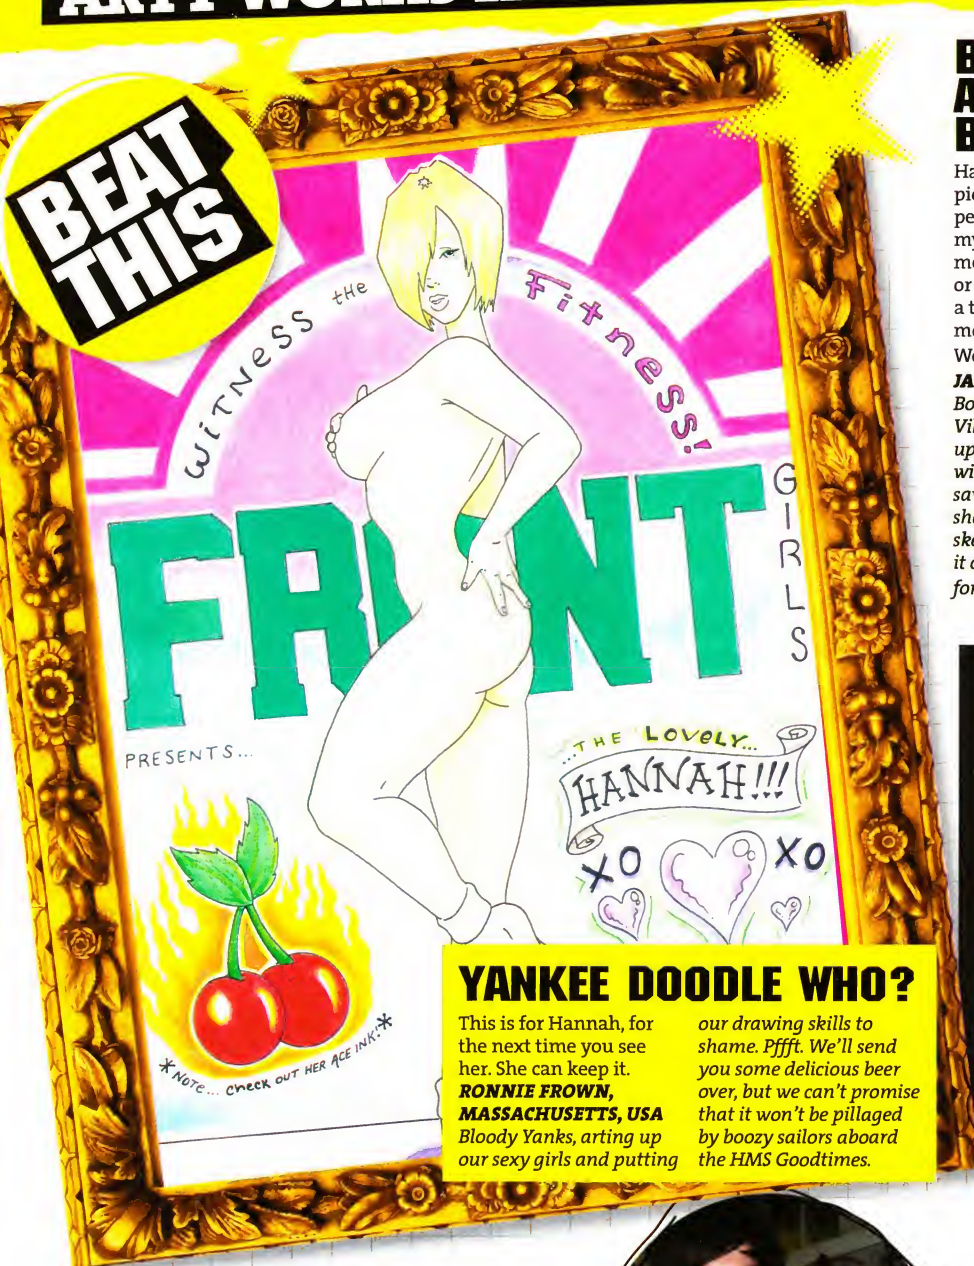

KIERAN-LEE, VIA E-MAIL

Sad times indeed. We'll shed a tear every time we watch Speed from now on. Plus, Gary Coleman's snuffed it, and all. The world can't afford to lose any more pioneers, so we'll stick around for a bit longer. Even when we do perish, rest assured we will haunt you relentlessly until your dying day. Sleep well, friend.

NAT'S A BIT SPOOKY!

NAMES GET A BIT WACKY, don't they?

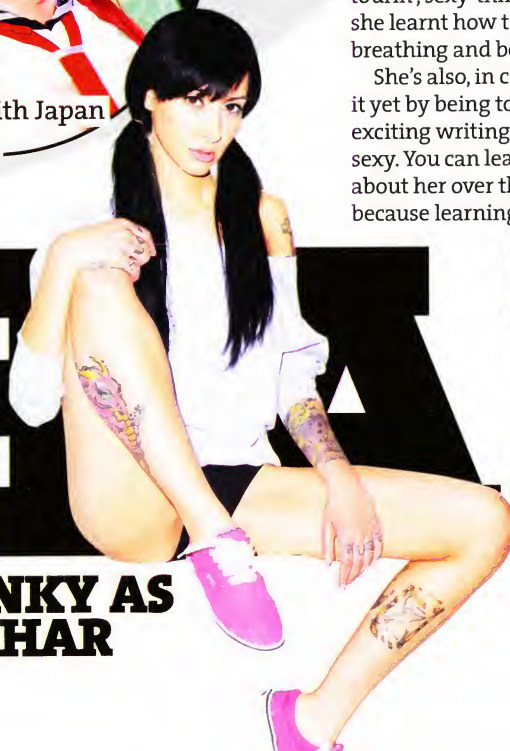

We knew a German dude at school called Thomas Schitt. When Sahar approached us, we didn't know how to pronounce her name, but it turns out if you do an Alan Partridge "Aha!" with an 'S' in front of it, you're sort of there.

There's much more to Sahar than an unusual name, though. The 22-year-old from London is a former member of the Fuel Girls, the hard-partyin', world-tourin', sexy-thing-doin' troupe, where she learnt how to do such ace shit as fire breathing and body burning.

She's also, in case you've not spotted it yet by being too transfixed by this exciting writing, head-thunderingly sexy. You can learn even more things about her over the next few pages, because learning is half the battle.

TRUE OR FALSE

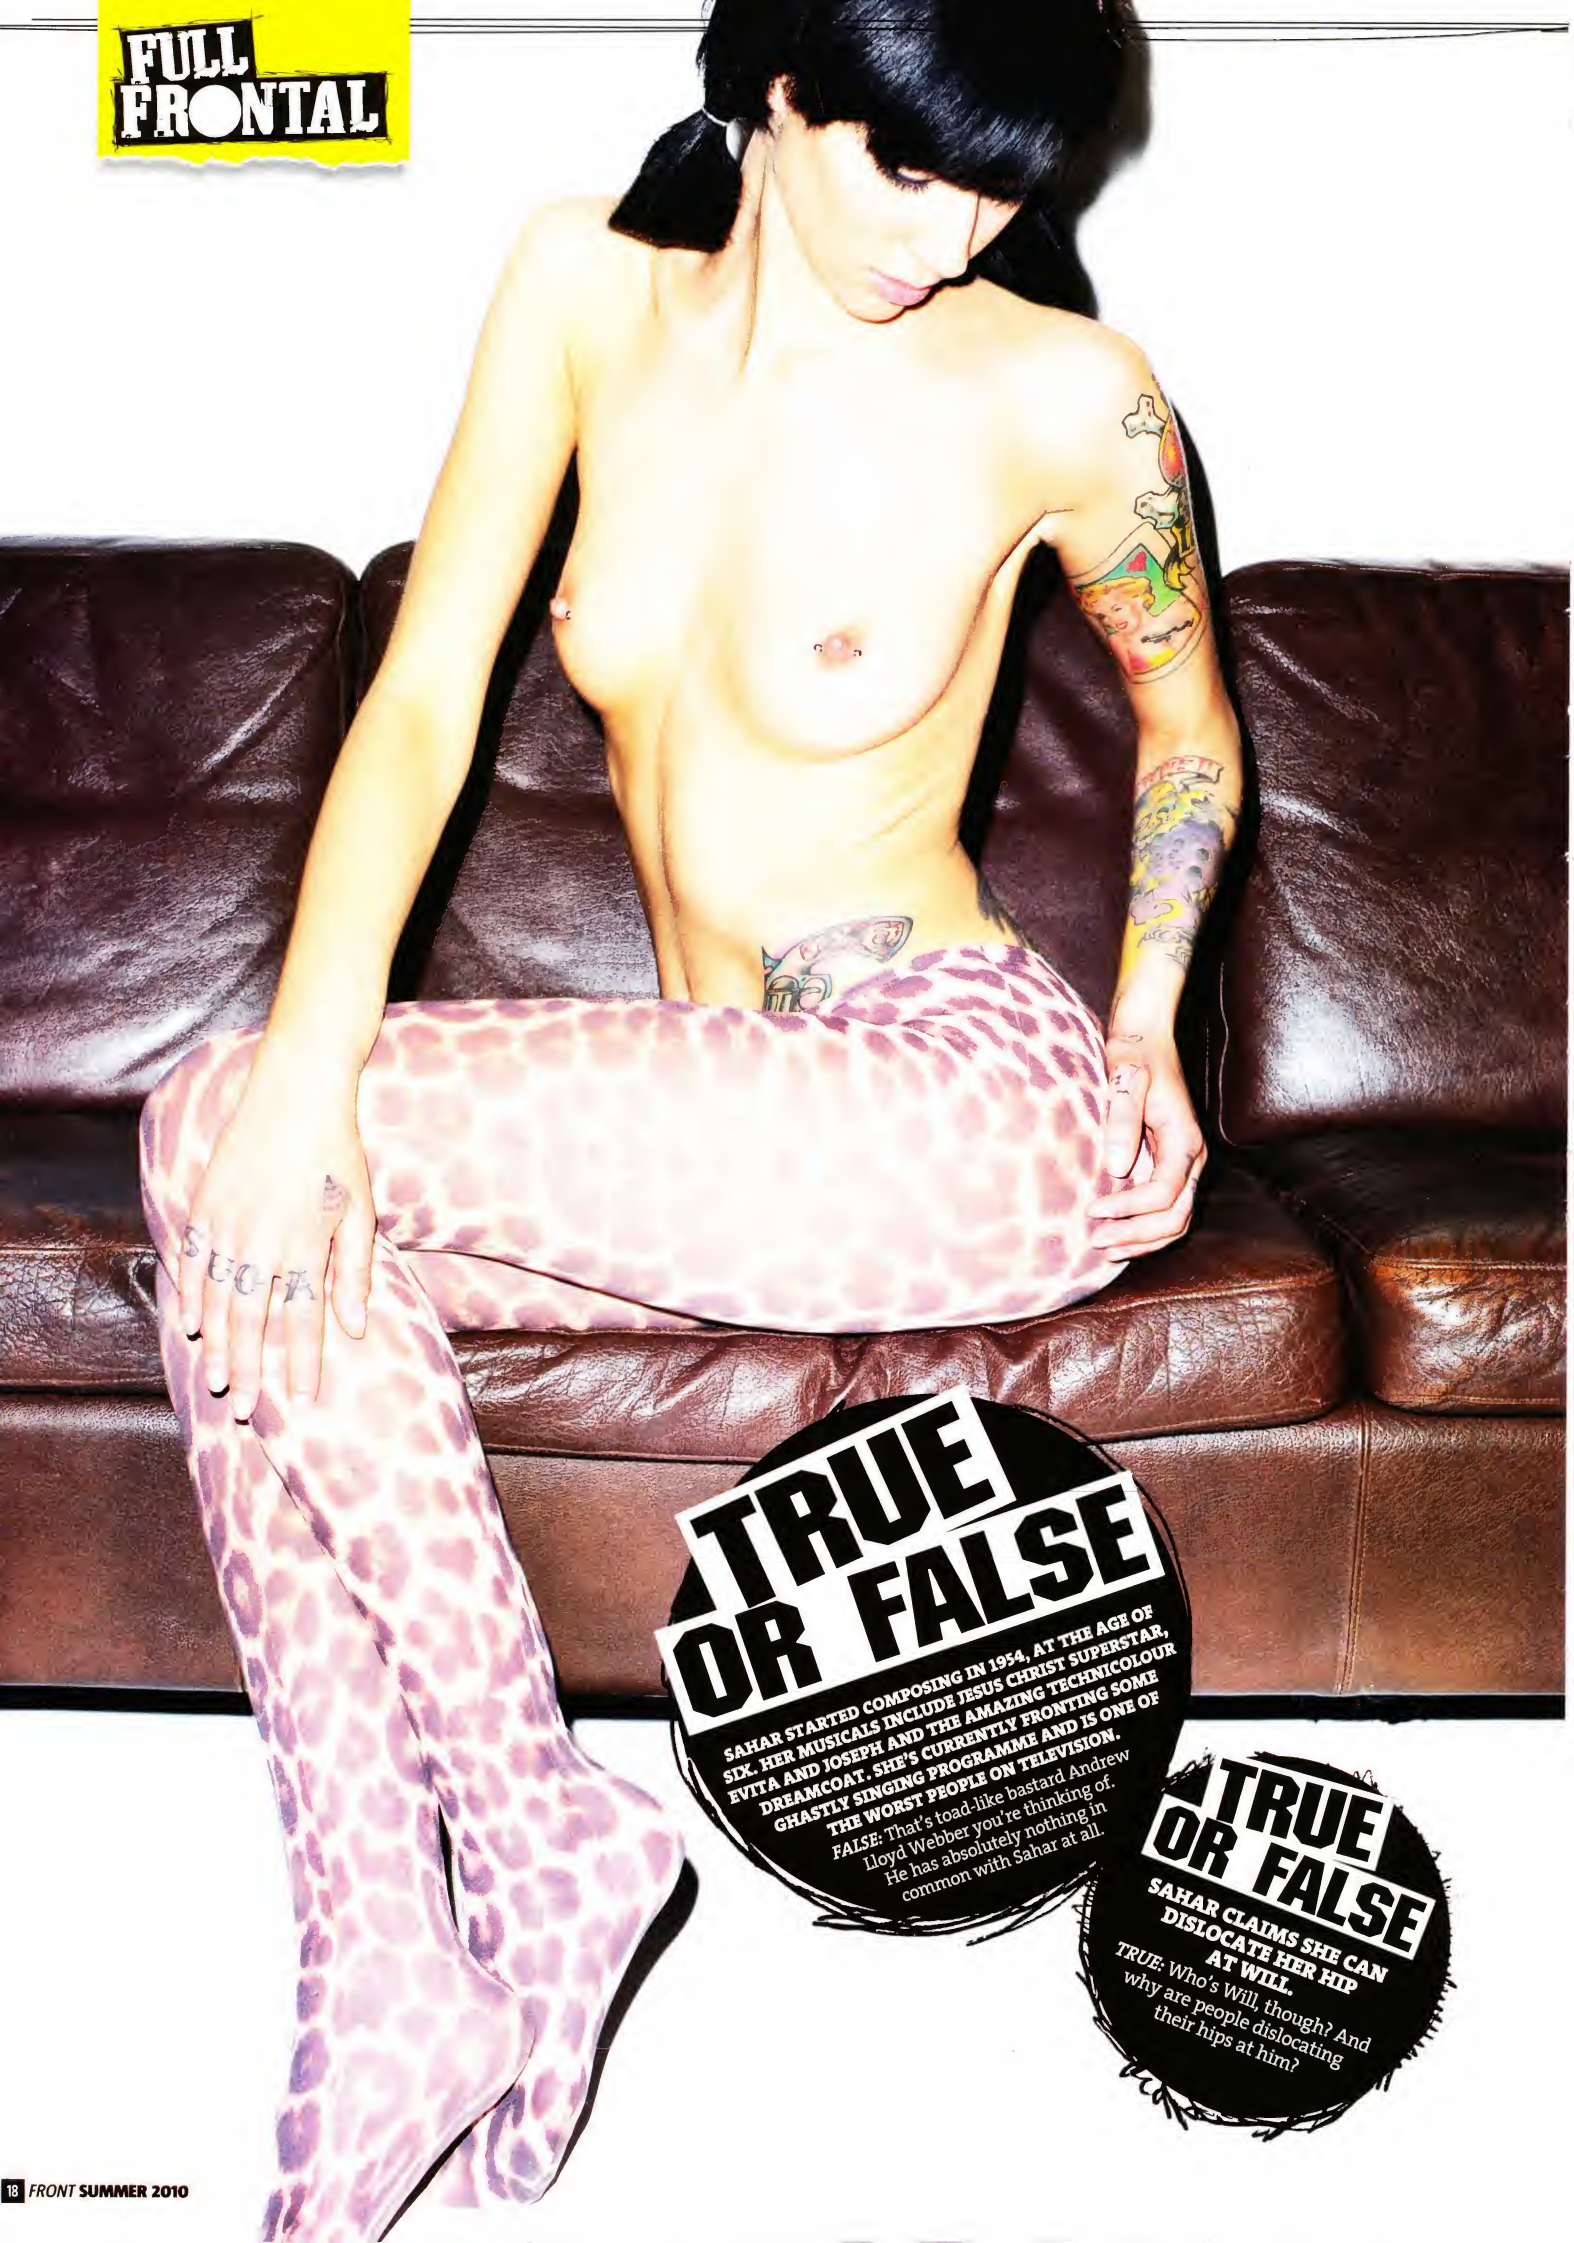

SAHAR OWNS A PET WARTHOG NAMED HENRY.

FALSE: She has a puppy, however. "She's hurt her leg, because some horrible fat kid stepped on her at the weekend," says Sahar. God, fat kids are disgraceful. One sat on our Uncle Freddy's knee once, and 40 years later he was dead.

TRUE OR FALSE

AMONG SAHAR'S TATTOOS ARE A ZOMBIE VERSION OF JESUS AND MARY.

TRUE: If there's a better reason than that to fall in love with someone, we're yet to hear it. "I need to colour it in," says Sahar. "Then I want to get more done on my hands. I've done my fingers but I want to get something big on my hands." We've got something big she can have in her hands, if you know what we mean...

TRUE OR FALSE

SAHAR STARTED COMPOSING IN 1954, AT THE AGE OF SIX. HER MUSICALS INCLUDE JESUS CHRIST SUPERSTAR, EVITA AND JOSEPH AND THE AMAZING TECHNICOLLOUR DREAMCOAT. SHE'S CURRENTLY FRONTING SOME GHASTLY SINGING PROGRAMME AND IS ONE OF THE WORST PEOPLE ON TELEVISION.

TRUE: That's toad-like bastard Andrew Lloyd Webber you're thinking of. He has absolutely nothing in common with Sahar at all.

TRUE OR FALSE

SAHAR CLAIMS SHE CAN DISLOCATE HER HIP AT WILL.

TRUE: Who's Will, though? And why are people dislocating their hips at him?

FULL

FALSE: They broke up after two singles, because they were utterly fucking is straight edge pioneers Minor Threat. "I'm not straight edge though," she adds.

TRUE OR FALSE

THE LAST GIG SAHAR WENT TO WAS AN ACOUSTIC

SKINS GO STATESIDE

BRISTOL BECOMES BALTIMORE

AS YOU'VE PROBABLY HEARD on the wireless, a remake of the parent-upsetting, flesh-heavy swear-fest Skins is in the pipeline in the U S of A, transferring it from Bristol to Baltimore (where The Wire was set) and presumably swapping any cider references for malt liquor.

Not to be outdone, Channel Four have announced they're turning the UK telly series into a sweet-ass feature film, using present and future cast members. Plot details haven't been released yet, but hopefully it won't just be 'the Skins gang go on holiday to Spain and someone gets bummed good 'n' proper' like when most programmes go filmy. Seriously, this doesn't need to come out like an Only Fools And Horses Xmas spesh.

Telly shows have to go bigger and better when they transfer to the big screen, but how can a show so full of swearing, sexiness, implausible gangsters and loads of death possibly get any bigger...?

FYI

- Kaya Scodelario, who plays Effie, speaks fluent Portuguese. If you meet her, don't say "Lambe-me os colhões", as it's extremely rude.
- Kaya is also painfully fit, and it fills us with unfathomable sadness that we will never kiss her without her screaming or being asleep.
- Despite being set in Baltimore, the US version is being shot in Toronto, Canada.

JESSICA WEEKLEY RETIRES!

SAD FACE

THE GOVERNMENT might be trying to get people to retire later, but FRONT cover star Jess Weekley is having none of it, and has decided to hang up her modelling bra at just 19 years old. Yes, readers, we're as upset as you are – so much so that we've jumped off a bridge into a river of tears, and cut our wrists using a knife made of kittens. Look out for a tribute day to Jess on the FRONT website very soon.

front@frontarmy.co.uk

HOW TO TRANSFER SKINS TO THE BIG SCREEN

1 JUST DOUBLE EVERYTHING

Instead of having sexy ginger twins (one of whom is a lesbian) and a bloke known for his huge cock, and killing about a third of the cast every series, multiply everything by two. Sexy ginger quintuplets (two of whom lez up), a bloke known for having two huge cocks, and fuck it, kill 'em all.

2 GET BIGGER NAMES INVOLVED

Every supporting role in Skins seems to be filled with a big name in 1990s telly. Let's get characters' grandparents involved, played by people like Richard Attenborough, Christopher Lee, and all kinds of fruity actors.

3 GO MENTAL

If they implement a rule where the writers aren't allowed to mention any drugs in the script unless they've done them themselves that day, we'll end up with gloriously fucked-up plots where it turns out people can fly, or everyone's each other's dad.

COMMUNITY: YOUR FAVE NEW SHOW?

LIFE ISN'T complete without a good telly show to burn away at your pretty eyes day in, day out, so it's just as well that our Yankee bros are churning out bad-ass new shows like Community.

The college-based comedy is hot shit across the pond at the moment, thanks to its mix of manic 30 Rock-style humour, sexy girls and '80s comedy bastard Chevy Chase.

It's set to hit our UK faces this autumn, and expect it to blow the fuck up when it does. In the meantime, we'll just be watching repeats of The Fresh Prince Of Bel-Air in our pants.

WHY COMMUNITY WILL ROCK YOUR NADS

- It's got amazing running gags and is up there with 30 Rock in the wacky/clever LOL-stakes.
- The girls are off the chizzle. Gillian Jacobs and Alison Brie (as seen in FRONT's Lady Garden, no less) are nagging hot.
- Spanish teacher Mr Chang is one of the funniest comedy baddies to have been on telly for *aaa*ges.
- Chevy Chase is in it. He looks like shit but still, it's Chevy fucking Chase.

The Party Hard guy

"This month, I'm making my motivational column all about SUNGLASSES! That's right! Now that it's sunny, it's time to talk about why sunglasses are so awesome.

"I'm lucky enough to have been born with quality eyeballs, so I've never had to wear prescription glasses or contacts. I'm grateful for this, except when I see someone wearing a really cool pair of spectacles – they usually look SMART AND MATURE. And when women wear reading glasses, they look like sexy librarians or school teachers.

"Fortunately, sunglasses are a way for me to participate in the joys of wearing frames on your face. I've noticed that sunglasses make just about everybody LOOK COOL. It's very hard to put on a pair of shades and not increase your coolness, so maximise the time you get to spend behind shades while you can."

TOP TIPS:

Make the most of your sunnies

1 SPYING: "Living in the city, I've always enjoyed scanning for hot babes. But sometimes it gets awkward to be staring at some girl, especially in close quarters like the subway or a crowded sidewalk. That's where the sunglasses come in! Just remember to keep your face turned at an angle, so you never face her directly."

2 ON OR OFF: "A close friend of mine taught me a very important rule about sunglasses – if you arrive at a party or event or anywhere already wearing sunglasses, you should NOT take them off until you officially leave the event."

3 INTIMACY: "There are times when you definitely want to remove your sunglasses, though. Let's say one of the girls you've been spying on comes up to you and says hello. That'd be the perfect time to take off your glasses so you can make that powerful connection. Unless you've been crying over your football club's recent loss, of course."

KING BLUES: IN THE SHIT!

PUNK STALWARTS THE KING BLUES have probably played in some right ruddy shitholes in their time, but little did they know they'd eventually end up surrounded by excrement, proper giving it some down in Brighton's murky sewers.

The show was arranged by ace shoe-making peeps Macbeth, and a selected bunch of fans were treated to a stinky show. But why should front man Itch and co say a big 'no thanks' to strumming amongst the turds again in the future?

1 THERE MIGHT BE GIANT RATS IN DRESSING GOWNS

The Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles were safe, but Splinter was the stuff of nightmares. Rats the size of humans? Fuck off.

but the addition of a sewer-lurking Tim Curry (him from Home Alone 2) dressed as a clown has put us off going near storm drains for life.

2 TIM CURRY MIGHT BE IN THERE DRESSED AS A CLOWN

Stephen King's nerve-shitter IT pretty much confirmed that all kiddies' entertainers are bastards,

3 IT'LL BE BOOBY- TRAPPED UP

If The Goonies has taught anyone anything, it's that sewers will kill you at every available opportunity and you should avoid them at all costs. That's unless you have a gadget-loving Vietnamese boy in tow.

4 ALLIGATORS. FUCKING ALLIGATORS!

Yep, sightings of the toothy buggers have formed a massive part of urban folklore in the USA since around the 1930s, when stories of them swarming around Manhattan's sewers were all the rage. It's total bullshit, course. Or is it...

5 YOU'LL SMELL LIKE A BOTTOM

Nobody has ever clambered out of a sewer, gone straight out to a night out in Jumping Jaks and done a sex with a lady-girl. Nobody.

Slam Dunk

ABOUT

WHAT? Boob-rocking festival.
WHERE? Unis of Hertfordshire and Leeds.
WHO THERE? New Found Glory, Young Guns, Rolo Tomassi.
BEST BIT Girls offering to flash their boobs willy-nilly.
WORST BIT Being shepherded

round Hatfield like randy, smelly cattle.
THE LOOK Fringey sods and pop-punk-loving gals.
DRINK OF CHOICE Cider and black, please, m8.
DRUNKEN LUNACY RATING 7 young pups out of 10.

THE UK'S ANNUAL ORGY of all things pop-punk smashed the fuck out of the last Bank Holiday weekend, and even ventured out of its sturdy Yorkshire home for the first time ever to party with the Southern folk.

Bands, dudes and pretty girls sweated their collective glands off in Leeds and Hatfield over the course of two boozily loud days that made up Slam Dunk. But who knows how to throw the best party, hmm? North or South? Here's how we broke it down, in the most meaningless and unscientific way possible...

DAINGEROUS GROPING

The Hatfield layout was a bit of a fucking shambles, leading to hordes of be-fringed dudes being crushed like naughty sheep. On the plus side, that made it easier to 'accidentally' bump into pretty girls' bums.
WINNER: SOUTH

MUSIC AND THAT

All frigging ace, but Four Year Strong went down a fucking bomb up in West Yorkshire, which was a pleasant surprise for everyone. Must have been something in the water.

WINNER: NORTH

WEATHER

It proper pissed it down in Hertfordshire, which ruined our enjoyment of our jumbo hot dog. Meanwhile, Leeds enjoyed some lovely sun and eventually the tops came flying off. Bonus.

WINNER: NORTH

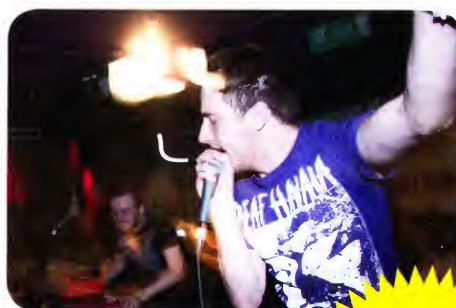

DRUNK FUN

A tough call, but the Southern folk were slightly angrier and therefore hit their liquor a little harder. Cue cider levels getting perilously low and people elaborately weeing on each other. We made the last bit up.

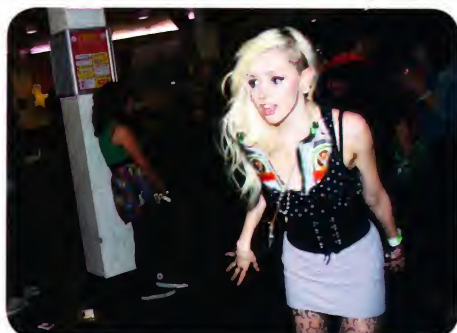

WINNER: SOUTH

RESULT:

DEAD HEAT, DUUUUDE!

That's not a girl, you fool, it's a fella from the local rugby club having a completely heterosexual trannied-up night out. No sex!

HAS A BIRD SHAT ON HER HEAD, CAUSING IT TO BE ITCHY?

LAUGHING

This is dodgy ground ethically, but you know what? A quick blowie behind some bins never did anyone any harm. Oral sex!

IS SHE OFF HER TWAT ON CHRIST KNOWS WHAT?

If a pretty lady with a clear head wants to touch your manky bits, it's a fairly safe bet that you're in there. Lovely work, we always knew you were lush. Sex!

DEFFO WANTS YOU

IS SHE IN A STATE OF MILD HYSTERIA BROUGHT ON BY ABJECT FEAR?

DO YOU HAVE POO ON YOUR FACE OR AN UNZIPPED FLY?

ARE YOU DRESSED LIKE A CLOWN?

Very few people are up for it while in a state of absolute terror. Be less scary, you bloody monster. No sex!

Oh dear. She's laughing AT you, rather than WITH you. Wash your face, hide your cock, and go home. No sex!

TOY STORY 3'S RAPIDLY BOUNCING ITS WAY TOWARDS YOUR EYES, BUT HOW DO ANIMATOR TYPES PIXAR SHAPE UP AGAINST THEIR SHREK-MAKING RIVALS DREAMWORKS?

DREAMWORKS

Launched in 1994 by Steven Spielberg, former Disney dude Jeffrey Katzenburg and music-label man David Geffen, DreamWorks SKG (geddit?) got its break by pitching in on Terminator 2. The 'Animation' division was born in 2004, and is knocking out more sequels to Kung Fu Panda, Shrek and Madagascar soonish.

Vs

PIXAR

Starting out in 1979 as part of George Lucas's LucasFilms, Pixar knocked up pretty visuals in Star Trek 2 and the massively underrated Young Sherlock Holmes before iPod man Steve Jobs bought them and got them making Tropicana adverts. Now owned by Disney, sequels of Cars and Monsters Inc are in the pipeline.

FIRST FILM

ANTZ (1998)

DreamWorks' debut was the focus of an almighty squabble with Disney, where one of DreamWorks' founders had left and reportedly taken the idea from.

TOY STORY (1995)

Pixar's first feature almost never happened when Disney threw a wobbler that Woody was a "sarcastic jerk" when looking at a rough cut of the film and ordered a rewrite. The original also had Barbie saving the day, but Mattel refused her usage.

BESTEST CHARACTER

PUSS IN BOOTS

A wise-cracking Hispanic swashbuckler, voiced by Antonio Banderas. If you watch Shrek 2 and don't want to be friends with him, you're dead inside.

WALL-E

A largely-mute machine has no right to be as cute or loveable as Wall-E manages to be. If you watch this film and don't want to be his mate, you've no soul.

EASE TO (VERY BADLY) DRAW

- 1) Draw a potato.
- 2) Draw lines dividing the potato into three. Put eyes on line one, a nose between one and two, and a mouth between two and three.
- 3) Stick a trumpet on either side. Voila, Shrek!

- 1) Draw half a potato, with a smaller potato inside it.
- 2) Draw a smile, an upside down smile for a chin and two eyes.
- 3) Add a squiggly monobrow. Hey presto, Buzz!

WE FORCE YOUNG HOPEFULS TO THROW US A KIDS'

BIRTHDAY PARTY

THE WORKIE: Bianca Stephens-Smith, 22, from Hertfordshire.

TEA-MAKING SKILLS: For someone so good at making cakes, Bianca's tea-making skills simply weren't up to scratch. Must do better.

WEAKEST MOMENT: Our huggable designer Will received a somewhat-suggestive text message which, when we got all sleuth-y and traced it back, had come from Bianca's mobile. Hijinx gone wrong, or an illicit affair in the making?

THE CHALLENGE: We're not actually sure how old we are here at FRONT, but figured that we've probably missed out on a fair few birthdays during the years we've been putting this shambles of a magazine together. With that in mind, we charged Bianca with throwing us the kick-ass birthday party we never realised we'd always wanted.

After transforming our messy office into some sort of 13-year-old girl's bedroom, Bianca made tasty cakes, arranged for a scary clown to come in and paint our faces, and even brought in a real fucking rabbit for the day! His name was Mr Beaumont, and he was ace.

Unfortunately, some naughty bastard snuck in a bottle of Tesco Value vodka, which seemed like a good idea at the time, but ended up with the team getting pissed and attacking a piñata with a cricket bat. This would have never happened at a McDonald's party, Bianca...

CLASSINESS

Posh people fucking love pink. They're always clad in pink polo shirts with upturned collars. Plus, 'peronelle' sounds pretty classy

OLD PERSON TO SHOUT AT WHILE DRUNK ON IT

FACT

As well as cider (or as they spell it, 'cyder'), Aspall also do a mean line in vinegars. Downing a bottle of vinegar in one go is 90 per cent manlier than a bottle of this

TASTING / RATING

"It's dry, with quite a bite to it. You wouldn't want to drink it all day, but it could break up a session. Shame it looks so weak"

Man, spelling words that normally begin with a 'c' with a 'k' is common as muck. Nice gold foil, though

Hailing from Sweden, Kopparberg claims to be the world's best-selling pear cider, sold in over 40 countries

"S'alright. I'm not that into it. It's pretty sickly, although probably the most socially acceptable of all of these. It smells like Play-Doh"
RATING: The best to drink in public if you're scared of being judged, but it's pricey and syrupy

Also, loads of people live there, all watching the Red Bull Air Race qualifying day and topping up their tans. YOU KNOW SHARKS – hard as fuck, good swimmers, toothy buggers? Well, the band Sharks are totally different. They're into classic punk rock, boast Gallows and The Gaslight Anthem as fans, can blink underwater, and have only mutilated one man in a cage.

They're also humans – four of them, to be precise, from lovely Leamington Spa, where no real shark has ever set foot, or fin, or whatever those deadly fuckers stand on. "It's pretty small and there's little going on musically at all," says vocalist James Mattock.

"I guess I've always wanted to leave here, but the good thing about touring is that it's nice to come back for a few days and chill. We've visited much worse places now." And it seems they've endured many horrors on the road, such as finding little time for showers or changing soiled grundies. "You find a way to get through the day," James admits. "We're all just deadly serious – we get the job done."

Deadly they might be, but it's not doing anything to kill off the hype surrounding the four-piece. "People say we're a buzz band but everything since we first started has just been a gradual step up after step up." A buzz there is, though, and it's getting louder by the day. Unless that's actually just something wrong with our fridge...

HI, JAMES. YOU'VE

THE GASLIGHT
ANTHEM COMING
UP. THAT'S A BIT
GOOD, ISN'T IT?

It's only a small run, but it's probably gonna be the highlight of our year so far. It's the most I've looked forward to a tour, I think. Our bass player gave [Gaslight front man] Brian Fallon a bit of paper with our MySpace address after one of their shows - it seemed like a long shot then, but now it's actually happening.

YOU'VE TOURED WITH GALLOWES, TOO. ANYONE
LEFT ON YOUR WISH LIST?

We would've loved to get on the Alkaline Trio tour, but that's not going to happen. We're gonna go anyway and just enjoy the night.

THAT'S THE SPIRIT. TELL US ABOUT YOUR NEW EP, SHOW OF HANDS.

It's five tracks. The first is actually the first song we ever wrote as a band, going on to songs we've written recently. Rather than building up a backlog of songs, we're putting out the best now.

WHAT'S THE LOOPIEST THING YOU'VE WRITTEN?

We wrote one song a while ago about a night where we ended up having our equipment smashed up by another band we played with. I jumped into their drum kit and trashed it, so they stole our amps and smashed up my guitar. We learnt quickly from that night - I haven't jumped through any drum kits since.

YOUNG GUNS' NORFOLK-BASED BUDDIES
ON TURNING THEIR SHITTY LUCK
AROUND AND GETTING HAMMERED

WHEN MOST BANDS lose their vocalist of five years, they tend to break up, swear lots and have a little cry. Norfolk rockers Deaf Havana said bollocks to all that. "We've just moved forward as a band," says guitarist Chris Pennells. "We'll do the next record with no screamed vocals at all. It's been really weird; we've had to re-write loads of our old songs."

The gods hadn't finished fucking with them then, though. With a modified lineup in place, guitarist James Veck-Gilodi – now promoted to lead vocals – got himself hospitalised on their last tour.

"He had tonsillitis and if his temperature had been 0.2 degrees higher they would've had to keep him in for a week!" laughs Chris.

Clearly, they're made of stronger stuff. Armed with fuck-all money, a preference for premium cider ("There's a very fine line between it being fun and you being face down in a gutter") and a gruelling touring schedule that's seen them take in the UK and Europe recently, they've also mastered the art of getting shitfaced in a supermarket car park until six in the morning.

"That was when we toured with The Casino Brawl and Young Guns," says Chris. "We were cranking our van's stereo and some chavs came up to us – we thought they were going to cause loads of trouble, but it was really cool."

By morning the chavs were gone, and all three bands decided to make use of their location and get some breakfast at the supermarket. Drunken and messy, but with the new ability to get car park fucked and a newfound appreciation for the fun-ness of chavs, you'd think they'd find the dawn welcoming them with open arms.

Er, no. They got fairly swiftly moved on by supermarket staff.

"THERE'S A VERY FINE LINE BETWEEN IT BEING FUN AND YOU BEING FUCKING FACE DOWN IN A GUTTER..."

CHRIS (GUITAR)

Q&A
CHRIS (GUITAR)

HI THERE, CHRIS. SO, ARE YOU LOOKING FORWARD TO THE SUMMER?

Yeah - we're playing Hevy and Sonisphere, touring with Emarosa and then doing loads of shows with our mates Young Guns.

YOUR LUCK HAS BEEN, QUITE FRANKLY, BLOODY RUBBISH RECENTLY.

Yeah, but everything's fuelling us for the next album. Everything's going to be about how shit it is around Norfolk and how there's fuck all to do, trying to make it our own way and having fun on tour.

IT SUCKS THAT THEY CLOSED [NORWICH PUNK PUB] THE FERRYBOAT, DOESN'T IT?

It's still boarded up; they've done nothing with it. If I win the lottery, the first thing I'm gonna do is buy that venue. We've done some small and gritty hometown shows that have been sold out twice over capacity and have had people crowd surfing on top of people crowd surfing.

SOUNDS, ER, CRAMPED. ARE YOU JEALOUS OF HOW WELL YOUR MATES YOUNG GUNS ARE DOING?

It's hard not to be, but we're chuffed to bits for them. We first toured with them well over two years ago and we'd never had so much fun with another band before.

FINALLY, WHAT THE FUCK DOES YOUR NAME MEAN?

[Laughs] It doesn't mean fuck all. It's basically just two random words put together that we thought, 'Yeah, that'll do!'

Emma Watson out of Harry Potter going out with us. It's fairly unlikely, but it would be just lovely.

VIDEO CALLS

Hell yep – webcams, Skype and iChat have made video calls an easy and cheap alternative to the monthly phone call home. Unfortunately, it does make lying to your mum about that facial tattoo a little bit harder.

AS LIKELY BY 2015 AS... People still procreating sexually – deffo.

FAXES

The BTTF vision of a fax machine in every room never really came to pass, with the internet turning up and rendering the fax a bit silly. It's only businesses that really have them these days, and no fucker will have one in five years' time.

AS LIKELY BY 2015 AS... Well, it's been and gone, really. The fax machine is as 2015 as fucking Pogs.

FLYING CARS

It's far too late for towns' entire road systems to be reshaped by 2015 – that shit'll take ages – and nobody's quite perfected a flying car yet. The Terrafugia Transition (terrafugia.com), a street-legal plane, is expected to start shipping in 2011, though.

AS LIKELY BY 2015 AS... Dale Winton declaring he's finally found the right girl. Unlikely.

BIG-ASS HOLOGRAM CINEMA

As the space-Smurfs of Avatar showed us, we're not quite at the 'shark leaping out of a cinema' levels just yet, but with increasingly ingenious uses of 3-D projections in shit like piss-strewn Black Eyed Peas concerts, surely by 2015 something will have happened.

AS LIKELY BY 2015

STEPHEN CARPENTER

SERGIO VEGA
(BASS)

CHINO MORENO
(VOCALES)

FRANK DELGADO
(TURNABLES/ELECTRONICS)

ABE CUNNINGHAM
(DRUMS)

SINCE FORMING A LONG TIME AGO IN A GALAXY FAR, FAR AWAY, DEFTONES HAVEN'T LET BASTARDS LIKE COMAS STOP THEM. WE MET SINGER CHINO AND DRUMMER ABE THE MORNING AFTER A LOT OF BOOZE...

YOU GUYS SEEM A LITTLE HUNGOVER. YOU ALRIGHT?

CHINO (VOCALS): I don't really drink too much any more – that's probably why I have a hangover today. We played a show last night, and I guess I didn't really drink that much afterwards, but I was awake till the sun came up, which is odd.

ABE (DRUMS): I had close to ten thousand drinks last night. Mostly beer, champagne, wine, Jägerbombs, purple hooters, mind erasers... Some fucking spring break drinks.

THE RESPONSE TO THE NEW ALBUM'S BEEN ACE – YOU MUST BE PRETTY STOKED ABOUT IT.

C: It makes it a little easier with the press, cos then we've got some good shit to talk about. It is a good record, man – it's all been pretty positive.

IT'S A SHAME ALL THIS HAS COME AFTER BASSIST CHI CHENG'S CAR ACCIDENT LEFT HIM IN A COMA, AND YOU SHELVED YOUR NEAR-COMPLETE ALBUM EROS. WAS THERE EVER ANY TEMPTATION TO RELEASE EROS ANYWAY? YOU KNOW, THINKING, 'WELL, WE'VE DONE THE WORK'?

C: I don't think it was a case of temptation. It'll get released one day – there's some great music on it. I think, if anything, it wasn't completely finished when Chi's accident happened, so we stepped away from music in general to focus on what was going on with him.

When we did reconvene, we all just wanted to dive in to being creative and starting something fresh rather than fixing up what we'd already done. I think it was therapeutic for us to kinda dive into something completely new at the time.

YOU DID HUGE BENEFIT CONCERTS FOR HIM WITH ACE ALL-STAR LINEUPS. IS EVERYONE IN THE ROCK WORLD JUST BEZZIE MATES?

C: Over the years we've met a lot of great people, and anyone that's met and befriended Chi will pretty much know that he's a really sweet, nice guy that'll drop whatever to help someone out. When this happened to him, everybody came forth to help with whatever they could, and the benefit shows were a good testimony to that. Everybody we called went, "Of course I'll be there," and it was awesome. We had Tommy Lee, Mike Shinoda, Mark McGrath, Suicidal Tendencies, Shakira... It was great shit.

YOU'VE BEEN IN THIS BAND FOR 22 YEARS NOW. HAS IT REACHED THE POINT WHERE IT'S LIKE, 'I CAN DO THIS ROCK STUFF, THIS IS EASY'?

C: I think it's probably a little easier than it's been a lot of years – that's just growing up and realising what works and doesn't work. At our age now we can make it easier for ourselves, or we can make it difficult. I think we've found new ways to keep it fun, to keep it interesting, a better work ethic now.

DO YOU STILL SMOKE WEED?

C: Is this in print? I don't wanna indict myself...

NAH, DUDE, WE WON'T PRINT THIS BIT. WE JUST THOUGHT, TRAVELLING THE WORLD, WHEN YOU'RE GOING THROUGH CUSTOMS IN BIG SHORTS DON'T THEY IMMEDIATELY THINK, 'THESE GUYS LOOK LIKE STONERS'?

A: Yeah, we don't travel with drugs any more – we learnt our lessons. A couple of weeks ago, though, we got pulled over in Texas by the immigration guys. He took us all off the bus, lined us all up, put the dogs on the bus and went through it. One person in our crew had a couple of joints on him. It was about four in the morning, we were standing there trying not to fall asleep, and it was just so much hassle.

C: This is, you know, if we were to smoke weed, which we don't.

IN A LOT OF JOBS, YOU GET SHIT FOR WEARING SHORTS. IN DEFTONES, YOU FUCKERS LIVE IN SHORTS.

C: I've seen Stephen [guitar] in long pants maybe 12 times. We could be in Siberia, and that motherfucker would be wearing shorts and complaining.

A: I don't really have anything else, – this is, like, all I got. Shorts are good, they're casual. Maybe they think you're not serious. It must be a soccer thing. You know what, that's bullshit! ▶

EARTH INTERVIEWS

YOU GUYS ARE STAR WARS FANS, RIGHT? IT'S FIVE YEARS SINCE IT ALL ENDED, SO THERE'S KIDS GROWING UP NOW THAT ALWAYS HAD SIX FILMS. THAT'S PRETTY FUCKED UP, RIGHT?

C: I hated Episode One, The Clone Wars was okay, and I liked Revenge Of The Sith. It was good to see Yoda fight, actually – it wasn't as corny as I thought it would be. I hated that Jar Jar shit. Of course, the classic ones are the ones which grabbed me as a youth. That's what inspired me as a kid – you know, it's a big galaxy, the Earth is so small and there's so much shit out there. It just gave me wide eyes as a kid. Empire Strikes Back is my all-time favourite. That movie's just fucking huge. From the planet Hoth to Cloud City, it's absolutely huuuuge!

A: I'd like to live in Cloud City.

C: I actually used to live there. I moved.

HAVE YOU EVER RIDDEN A HORSE?

C: I have.

A: I've ridden a horse a few times, but not for a while. You know what, though? I've been fucking bucked off. Well, it was a pony, really.

C: You got bucked off a pony?

A: It wasn't a pony so much as a mini horse. Man, fuck horses.

APPLES OR ORANGES?

A: Apples. I like clementines, though – little tangerines. Oh man, I'm so fucking conflicted.

AC/DC OR IRON MAIDEN?

C: AC/DC.

A: I'd be Maiden all the way, but as I get older I really appreciate AC/DC. So I can't answer that. Yeah, it's fucked.

Fans turn out for bassist Chi Cheng's benefit show in Hollywood last year

SWORDS OR KARATE?

A: Swords AND karate.

CHINOS ARE A TYPE OF TROUSERS – IF YOU COULD HAVE ANYTHING ELSE NAMED AFTER YOU, WHAT WOULD YOU GO FOR?

A: The planet Earth, man.

"I'VE RIDDEN A HORSE A FEW TIMES. I'VE BEEN BUCKED OFF A MINI ONE. MAN, FUCK HORSES"

COMPLETE THIS SENTENCE: DEFTONES ARE FUCKING ACE, BECAUSE...

C: Because they like what they do, and they do it well.

A: And they're in it to win it. FRONT

ABE: "He's a son of a fucking bitch!"

EMPEROR PALPATINE

ABE: "It's the fucking Emperor that's the son of the bitch!"

HISTORY IS AWESOME

1988: GUNS N' ROSES
RELEASE APPETITE
FOR DESTRUCTION

FYI

- Appetite For Destruction is a clever anagram of I Fart Tits And Poppadom, which was the name of guitarist Izzy Stradlin's favourite book as a child.
- During the outro to Welcome To The Jungle, you can just make out a reversed voice growling, "Can you get me a Twix and a Fanta?"

THIS IS A BIT OF A LAFF, EH?

Guns N' Roses are a crazy young band running wild in LA's '80s underbelly. They're knee-deep in sleaze and substance abuse, and they blummin' love it!

As they record Appetite For Destruction, the band channel their dirtbag lifestyles into songs like Paradise Titty and Sweet Chilled Wine O'Mine.

THIS HAS GOT OUT OF HAND, EH?

Appetite For Destruction is an epic success, selling more copies than anyone can be bothered to count and making GN'R the biggest band on the planet!

Sadly, fame and fortune come at a price: the band's partying soon becomes madcap and self-destructive. Within three short months, they will all be dead...

LADY GARDEN

OUR FIVE FAVOURITE
LADY BLOSSOMS
THIS MONTH

1 DIANA VICKERS

Bare-footed Diana failed to win X Factor, and so never experienced the lasting megastardom enjoyed by previous winners like Steve Brookstein and Joe McElderry – instead, she's had to make do with a number one single, a number one album and now a number one on the legendary Lady Garden chart. She's also inspired a few number threes around here, oh yes! (A number three is when you go to the toilet and you don't do a poo or a wee-wee, but something altogether livelier.)

2 BROOKLYN DECKER

Live in the U.S. or A? Then you'll recognise 23-year-old modelist Brooklyn Decker from the cover of this year's Sports Illustrated Swimwear Issue, which probably caught your eye as you rolled your 30-stone frame around the local 7/11 in a motorised wheelchair, greedily shovelling catering-sized boxes of butter-filled doughnuts and burger-flavoured ice cream into your basket before teetering over in the car park and dying of a massive coronary

4 JORJA INGLIS

Jorja is the singer/chief pogo-er in Brighton pop-punk band MiMi Soya, and her bandmates have gallantly sacrificed their own faces to make her look even prettier than she already does by growing three of the very worst beards we ever did see. Their current single is called Should Have Called In Sick - it's all about German economic policy 1871-1890.

5 KYRAH

Saying that hot new pop fitty Kyrah is similar to Ke$ha is a bit like saying that the Olsen twins kinda look like each other - they're abso-bastard-lutely identical. Still, there's nowt wrong with a bit of blatant copycattery in the world of pop music, and can you ever really have enough lairy blonde girls singing in funny robot voices? No, y'can't.

CATERPILLAR OR BUTTERFLY

IT'S SOMETIMES HARD TO TELL IF A LADY IS A WINGED BEAUTY OR A MANY-LEGGED MONSTER. THANKFULLY, THE LADY GARDEN TEAM ARE HERE TO SETTLE SUCH MATTERS...

Hollie-Jay Bowes

SHE'S A BUTTERFLY

You'll recognise Hollie-Jay from the festival of daftness that is Hollyoaks, in which she plays the 'feisty' (i.e. 'fucking bananas') Michaela McQueen. She might not be the most classically beautiful member of the cast, but there's something about her foghorn voice, escaped-convict cackle and saucy demeanour that makes us want to eat chips off her.

SHE'S A CATERPILLAR

If you like your ladies delicate and dainty, you need to look elsewhere, as Hollie-Jay often looks like she's just come from a car park punch-up over a stolen meat pie. And that voice - holy sweet Jesus, that voice - that would scare the piss out of you if she was ever to raise it up loud, which she constantly would, probably while whacking you with a two-by-four.

VERDICT:

BUTTERFLY

WOULD, WOULD AND THREE TIMES WOULD. WE'RE NOT PROUD OF OURSELVES, ALTHOUGH WE JUST SAID 'WOULD' THREE TIMES, SO MAYBE WE ACTUALLY ARE.

SEND US YOUR LADIES

Have you seen a beautiful lady in an advert, telly show, motion picture, music video or take-away menu? Then whip up an e-mail or text alerting us to her, and we'll see if there's a place for her in the sensual compost of The Lady Garden.

DUDE OF SPORT

MATT PRIEST

THIS MONTH, IT'S THE TURN OF ONE OF THE UK'S HOTTEST BMX TALENTS TO FACE THE FRONT PROFILING & INTERROGATION

FYI

Matt was being filmed by Ride UK magazine during this shoot, and was asked such glamorous things as, "Can I just film you walking through that door again?"

"I ROCKED OUT ON BLUE PETER"

"I used to be in a band when I was 11, just with some school mates. We were called The Hammers – I dunno why. I used to play lead guitar, and we played a few shows around town and a few local festivals – and then ended up on Blue Peter.

"We played a song and they gave us a Blue Peter badge each, but we didn't get to go in the Blue Peter garden. I remember having breakfast with S Club 7 the morning of the show, which was weird. Well, it was just Rachel Stevens, but then she's probably the one you'd have wanted to have breakfast with as an 11-year-old, wasn't she?"

"MUSIC HELPS WHEN YOU'RE COMPETING"

"I'm more of an indie fan – Black Rebel Motorcycle Club, and that – but I'll normally ride to really chilled-out music. Stuff like Moby's really good – I can just put that on, and it calms me down a bit. You don't want to get too excited and carried away when you're riding, and it's good to have something you can just relax to."

"THE BIGGER, THE BETTER"

"Sometimes you get to competitions and find that the jumps are a bit of a let-down. Riding dirt, there's nothing better than having huge jumps – even when you look at ones that are scarily big, it's all part of the rush. I won the Relentless NASS event two years ago, and they had some great jumps."

Matt is taking part in the West Strongman event

WHO HE?

NAME: Matt Priest
BORN: 06/08/89
LIVES: Cambridge
JOB: Pro dirt BMX rider

"TURNING PRO JUST KINDA HAPPENS"

"I've been riding for about six years now, and have been pro for over two. You don't ever really notice it happening – you start off getting sent some stuff, meeting a couple of people, going off to an event, and it just builds from there. The more people you meet and the more places you go opens everything up. I was getting e-mails inviting me to somewhere new or offering me something and just worked up from there. It's not really something that just happens in one go."

"EVERYONE DREAMS OF MAGAZINE COVERS"

"This is my first, and it's a massive achievement I'm really proud of. Everyone remembers reading Ride UK and other BMX mags as a kid, and dreaming that one day you'd have your own cover. It's something that every rider has on their list of things they want to achieve, and it's absolutely amazing to have happened to me."

"NEVER WEE IN PUBLIC"

"I was out in Vegas, and a mate was going to buy some beers from a shop. I was busting for the loo, so I dove into this alleyway, did my thing... then felt a hand on my shoulder. Some security guard guy threw me against a wall, handcuffed me, and threatened to take me to the police station if I didn't pay him a load of money for him to turn a blind eye to my weeing. Apparently, I'd be thrown into jail and fined a couple of hundred dollars if he took me to the police, so in the end I think we scraped together about $40. Basically, we got mugged cos I took a wee."

FAMOUS FAN

TRASH TALK'S

Spencer Pollard

THE WORLD'S MOST DANGEROUS BAND ARE DIE-HARD FANS OF THE MOST DANGEROUS TEAM ON THE PLANET. BE AFRAID...

FIRST OFF, LET'S GET THIS OUT THE WAY, SPENCER: IS AMERICAN FOOTBALL JUST RUGBY FOR GIRLS WHO NEED TO WEAR PADDING?

Nah, man, there's much more to it than that. On each play the offensive and defensive linemen are beating the shit out of each other while the finesse players move the ball around. The defensive line is doing whatever it can to get at the quarterback and smash him, and he's trying to throw it to one of his receivers, and then the defense is trying to smash them too. Guys can get really hurt trying to catch, cos they can't focus on anything other than the ball. If the quarterback throws the ball in the wrong place, it can put his receiver right into a hell of a hit.

DID YOU

EVER USED TO PLAY?

For sure. Most of the men in my family played and my dad, uncle and grandfather all coached local high school teams. I played for ten years before I stopped during high school to play baseball instead.

SO, THE OAKLAND RAIDERS...

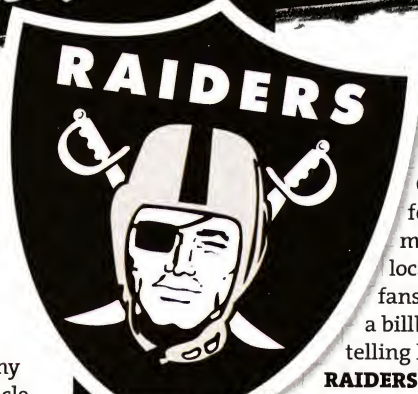

When I was a kid there were two teams who played in Los Angeles, which is close to where I'm from – the Rams and the Raiders – and I didn't want to root for a blue-and-yellow goat. I loved the Raiders' attitude and that they played the game aggressively.

YEAH, IT'S FAIR TO SAY THE RAIDERS HAVE GOT A BIT OF A REPUTATION, HAVEN'T THEY?

Well, it's a very physical sport and yeah, we get a lot of penalties given against us. The Raiders get a bad rep because a lot of frustration builds up over the season since we don't typically win much. When players get frustrated they play more recklessly.

YOU'VE BEEN STRUGGLING A BIT IN RECENT YEARS – WHAT'S GOING ON?

The owner, Al Davis, needs to step aside. He sticks his nose in all aspects of the organization and is very impatient. He's even moved us between Oakland and LA cos he felt he could make more money at a different location. There's a group of fans against him who rented a billboard by the stadium telling him to resign.

RAIDERS FANS DON'T SHY

AWAY, DO THEY?

Nope. Games are really intense anyway – you can hear the sound of the players on the field colliding – but Raiders games are even more so. We're the Raider Nation.

DO EXPLAIN...

It's the collective name of all die-hard Raiders fans across the country. The Black Hole is the section of fans who dress up in face paint and a lot of death- and skull-related motifs. They're pretty intense, but I've never joined in on that. Corpse paint was never my thing.

IT'S NOT THE STRONGEST OF LOOKS... WHAT'S ALL THIS TAILGATING LARK?

Imagine taking the pub and a barbecue to the stadium so you can have your drinks and cook up whatever you want in the car park before the game – that's tailgating.

DO OPPOSITION FANS NEVER TRY AND GATECRASH THE PARTY?

The rivalries pretty much stay on the field, but at Raiders games fans can get pretty crazy. It's not a good idea to wear any of the opposing team's colours inside the stadium. There have been instances where some opponent's fans have been tossed over the railing. On second thought, maybe the rivalries can get a little intense...

LEGEND
BO JACKSON

"He was big, strong, fast, and athletic. As a kid, my cousin and I would play Tecmo Super Bowl on the Nintendo until our eyes were bloodshot, and even though he'd usually beat me pretty good, I did manage to score a few touchdowns a game with the big number 34."

CULT HERO
TIM BROWN

"When I was growing up, kids seemed to follow the flashier players who would celebrate wildly when scoring. He was great, but not like that at all. He'd score and act like he'd been there before and would be there again. I liked that because that's how I was taught to play when you score."

VILLAIN
SEBASTIAN JANIKOWSKI

"He had a few problems in his day. He's rather savage and burly for a kicker – he's been asked multiple times not to run downfield to tackle opposing players on the kickoff – so I don't think you'd want to call him a villain to his face."

FOXY FIXIE

HOTTER THAN A BONFIRE ON THE SUN, YET COOLER THAN A POLAR BEAR'S GOOLIES: IT CAN ONLY BE ANOTHER ALT GIRL, YEAH?

DAY JOB: Finishing my MA in literature, working as a freelance makeup artist and pouring pints.

DREAM JOB: Journalist. If that fails, I'll become a cupcake baker.

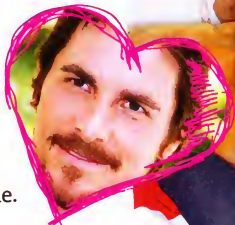

BEST THING ABOUT BEING A FRONT ALT GIRL? Being surrounded by all those beauties in your magazine.

It'll be a nice little memory for when I'm old.

TURN-ONS: Affection, great personality and nice arms.

TURN-OFFS: I really can't stand moody people. Also, appalling spelling and anyone who really uses 'LOL'.

WHO DO YOU HAVE A CRUSH ON? Edward Norton and Christian Bale.

FYI

- Magdalena was just doing a spot of shopping in Tesco when we called to do this interview. We had her down as more of a Waitrose girl.
- Her awesome-sounding name is a combination of her being half-Danish and half-Austrian, the bloody lovely multi-European fox.

FAVOURITE FOOD: Greek food, or something hearty, like schnitzel. Mmm.

BOOZE-DRINK OF CHOICE: Absinthe, but I really enjoy a nice Corona with a couple of drops of Tabasco sauce in it.

FIRST GIG: Marilyn Manson with my brother in 1998.

LAST GIG: The Bronx.

PERFECT NIGHT OUT: Going out with my lovely ladies and texting my mum at some ridiculous hour to tell her I love her.

PERFECT NIGHT IN: Eighteen-inch pizza, a good film and a warm bed.

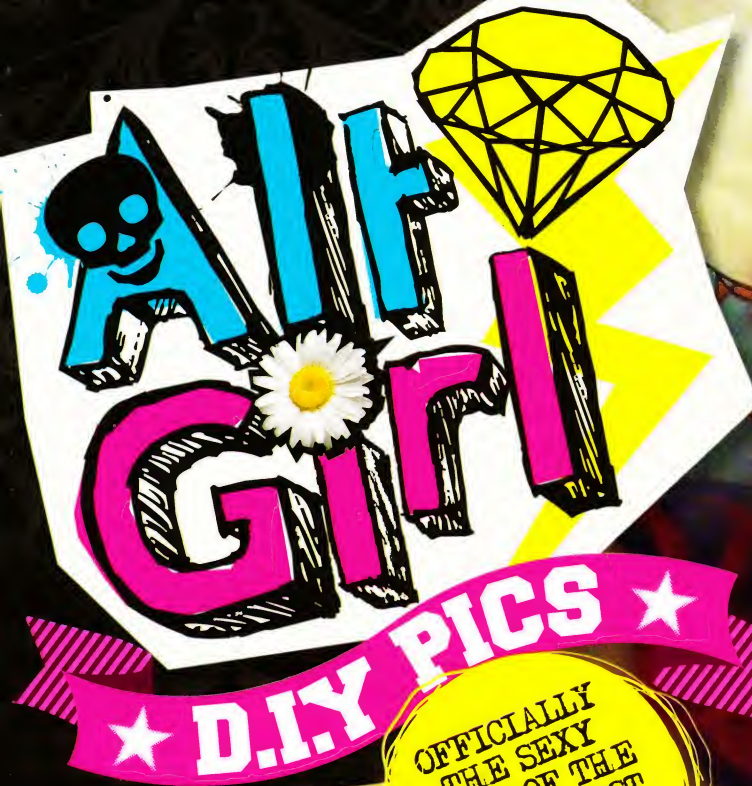

WHO GETS WHAT IN YOUR WILL? My cats get the bed and all my films. Everything else isn't really valuable. [Laughs]

NO. 40 HOTWIRE YOUR CAR

FIG. 1 GET IN THE CAR

For the purposes of this, we're assuming the car's unlocked, and that it's an older model lacking all the high-tech security gubbins of new models. Let's just assume you can get at the dashboard, yeah?

FIG. 2 GET STRIPPING

You should spot two probably-red wires beneath the dash leading in and out of the steering column. If you strip these and twist them together, you'll be able to bypass the need for the ignition switch.

FIG. 3 THE MAGIC TOUCH

There'll be another wire, often brown, leading into the ignition. Pull this out, strip the end, and touch it to the twisted-together red ones. This'll provide ignition, so rev the engine and you're laughing.

FIG. 4 DO SOME DOUGHNUTS

Unless anyone's handily left a few ramps lying about for you to impress women by flipping off, you might as well start doughnutting the fuck out of every surface you can. Chicks dig auto crime and vandalism. Let the front-seat blow jobs commence!

SECRET LANGUAGE OF THE STAND-UP COMEDIAN

HIS JOB IS TO TICKLE YOUR FUNNY PARTS WITH HIS HILARIOUS OBSERVATIONS. SO WHY DOES HE SMELL OF GIN AS HE SLAGS OFF FAT WOMEN?

WHAT HE SAYS:

THERE'S A GREAT NETWORK OF STAND-UP VENUES ACROSS THE COUNTRY WHERE WE PLY OUR TRADE.

WHAT HE MEANS:

They're mostly piss-stinking little filth-holes with excruciating names like The Laugh Stick or The Giggle Hole. They might sound like pleasuredomes of hilarity, but if you manage to get out without treading or sitting in something that has been expelled from another human being, you're golden.

WHAT HE SAYS:

STAND-UP IS THE PUREST ART FORM – JUST YOU AND A MICROPHONE. WHAT'S GREAT IS THAT ANYONE CAN DO IT.

WHAT HE MEANS:

Which explains why so many spotty little urchins think they can get up and have a bash at an open-mic night. Two minutes later and their idiotic dreams lie in ruins. Open-mic nights should only ever be held behind closed doors in front of a specially-selected panel of comedy judges who are armed with bolt guns.

WHAT HE SAYS:

IT'S A COMPETITIVE BUSINESS BUT ALL US STAND-UPS GET ALONG REALLY WELL WITH EACH OTHER.

WHAT HE MEANS:

I recently had a complete meltdown when the comic who went on before me did a joke about dinosaurs when he fucking knew that the end of my set is a routine about what Jurassic Park would have been like if it was full of Down's Syndrome kids instead of dinosaurs. Later, I poured sugar in his petrol tank. Okay, okay, I actually jizzed up his exhaust pipe. Obviously, I'd been drinking heavily – I'm a stand-up comedian!

WHAT HE SAYS:

I'M HOPING THAT MY EDINBURGH FRINGE SHOW WILL BE A BIG SUCCESS – THERE'S BEEN A LOT OF BUZZ AROUND IT.

WHAT HE MEANS:

It's just one of a thousand shows on in Edinburgh in August that are exactly the same. One bloke on a stage, trying his hardest to mask all of his failings and insecurities as he realises that he's embarked on a career path that will almost certainly end in either a sustained period of mental illness or death from a fucked liver. On the poster I've described it as 'Possibly the feel-good hit of the Fringe!'

WHAT HE SAYS:

WITH A BIT OF LUCK AND A LOT OF HARD WORK, YOU CAN MAKE A DECENT LIVING OUT OF BEING A STAND-UP.

WHAT HE MEANS:

By 'decent', I mean about the same as you'd earn if you worked in a bank. Except you spend most of your time driving around the country in the dead of night, while your days are filled sitting around watching Cash In The Attic. On the other hand, just like someone who works in a bank, you spend your working day looking directly at hundreds of people who think you're a cunt.

WISE WORDS

THE SEXY LIFE OF A MODEL

OBSESSION OF THE MONTH: JAPAN

KONICHIWA, BITCHES! This month's obsession with Japan is like the Godzilla of all my obsessions, in that it towers above and threatens to stomp them.

I bum Japan. I bum Japan so hard that you could probably make a Hentai movie out of it, although how popular a video of a fully-dressed girl mounting and bumming a massive country like a wayward Jack Russell remains to be seen. Perhaps it would be big in Japan. Ha.

Everything about Japan is hot: the girls, the guys that look like girls, the mental fashion, the video games, the technology, L from Death Note, Hello Kitty, Junko Mizuno... I could go on forever. But most of all, the thing I like the most about Japan is how weird it is. You could walk around Japan dressed like a crazy Lolita reptile fairy and no one would bat an eyelid. I mean, just look at all those crazy Elvis dudes they have dancing and singing in random parks.

It's like a dream world yet, despite all this, I HAVE NEVER BEEN! Oh, cruel life, how can you fail me so hard? I like to think that one day I will visit and it will be just like playing Shenmue.

TOP 5 WEIRD JAPANESE THINGYS

1 USED PANTY MACHINES

Although now illegal, used panty machines DID exist, but they now use vending machines for much more normal purposes like selling frozen meat, hard liquor and lobsters.

2 OCTOPUS PORN

Due to tight pornography laws, the Japanese have taken to filling their girls up with octopuses as a replacement for cocks.

3 DISGUSTING DRINKS

Japan is home of the Placenta 400000, which is made from swine's placenta. They also have a drink made from cheese.

4 BEBIGYARU

Meaning 'baby girls', this is a website devoted to adult girls in nappies. Nice.

5 YAMAMBAS

These 'mountain hags' are girls who follow this mental fashion style and put Jordan to shame with their extreme tanning.

● ANIME EYES

As part of my obsession with all things Japanese, I bought these contact lenses from Geo Eyes that make your eyes bigger. They look mental.

● MAKING UP DANCES

You can check out my latest, Gimme Some Butter, on my YouTube channel, SimWiseDoesGamez, which is mainly just full of drunk videos.

● ALAN WAKE

Combines my two favourite things, Silent Hill and Twin Peaks. Win.

● SWEET TOOTH

Another comic, this time written by Jeff Lemire, about a weird mutant deer boy. So ace.

● MY COMIC

I have written a comic. It's called Alma Mater and it's about a girls' school run by demons and is a bit like The Warriors.

WHAT ELSE I HAS DONE THIS MONTH

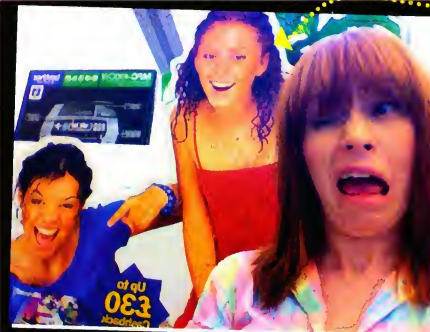

PERVY CHANGING ROOM

Boys always wonder what goes on in changing rooms, so I took this picture. It's not a very accurate representation as I am wearing clothes and not spanking strangers with a wet towel.

THIS PICTURE WILL GIVE YOU NIGHTMARES

Who knew that by just exposing your eyeballs you could create a picture so terrifying? We certainly didn't.

CHILLING WITH ATOMIC KITTEN

On a recent trip to Liverpool, I bumped into two members of Atomic Kitten and challenged them to a gurn-off. Guess who won?

REAL LIFE MARIO KART

For proof that in my life there is ne'er a dull moment, I present to you this picture of me at a go-kart track playing real life Mario Kart. I'm the really poorly dressed Princess Peach. It was all kinds of epic win.

MIXING RUDE WORDS AND POLITE WORDS

There's something incredibly satisfying about threatening to kick someone's fucking bottom, or calling someone a flipping ruddy cunt.

HELLBENT FOR COOKING

If you've ever wondered what Gwar's favourite appetizers are, wonder no longer - this cookbook has recipes from metal bands all over the world. How else can you get recipes from Sepultura and cooking tips from Anthrax? Amazing.

SUMMER GENEROSITY

Nothing brings out the kindness of strangers like a bit of sun. Whether it's a booze-soaked barbecue you don't spend a penny at, an insanely large round bought in the pub by someone in a fit of sun-madness, or a lift home from a festival from someone you've barely met, Christmas can eat piss.

TECHNOLOGY

Bin that iPhone and get yourself a sexy Motorola DynaTAC 8000x – as seen blasting hot cancer into the ear of Gordon Gekko in Wall Street and Tommy Vercetti in GTA: Vice City. You should probably get one before you leave (eBay price: £100) as they were pretty un-cheap ('80s price: £2,500).

No Nintendo DS for you, either – you'll have to pass the time with its granddaddy, the Nintendo Game & Watch. Fifty-nine versions were produced, including Ball (in which you caught a ball) and Climber (in which you climbed a thing). Exciting stuff!

Keep your giant phone and shit game zipped up safe in a shiny bum-bag – these above-groin rucksacks were everywhere in the '80s.

If you're time-travelling through America, remember: they call bum-bags 'fanny-packs', because they think arseholes are actually minges.

CLOTHES

There are three main looks to choose from...

TOP GUN: You need some hiigh-waisted jeans, a blinding-white T-shirt, mirror shades and a smug grin like you just blew a Russkie pilot outta the sky. Basically, picture what Simon Cowell probably looked like in 1987.

RAP ATTACK: Get a ghetto-blasters as big as an actual ghetto, a gold chain that weighs twice what you do, and a shiny tracksuit of the sort that old people get for £14.99 out the back of the Mail On Sunday.

NEW ROMANTIC: You're aiming for a cross between a transvestite pirate and a bored ponce from outer space. Remember to constantly make '80s-synthesiser noises under your breath ("psshheeooh", etc).

BEWARE
TOILET SEATS

Back in the '80s, you could catch The AIDS from a toilet seat – so remember to hover-pool!

NORTHERN IRISHES

Easy to spot as dey'll be tawkin' loik dis and wearing a balaclava. They will attempt to blow you up (or forcibly bum you, if they're a priest).

TRAINERS

NIKE VANDAL

AS WORN BY: KYLE REECE IN TERMINATOR

Originally rocked with shit highlights, a trench coat and a shotgun by John Connor's pappy in the Terminator film, these are possibly the best sneakers to come out of the '80s.

£65, from crookeditongues.com

PUMA SUEDE

AS WORN BY: B-BOYS

An all-time classic for sneaker freaks and hip-hop heads alike. This was a break dancers staple footwear and worn in many of the most iconic B-Boy imagery.

£45, from crookeditongues.com

ADIDAS SUPERSTAR

AS WORN BY: RUN DMC

This first dropped in '69 as a basketball pro model. It came to the forefront of '80s culture when hip-hop thoroughbreds Run DMC rocked it without laces and pushed the tongues forward.

£60, from schuh.co.uk

FOR THOSE JOINING US
FROM THE PAST...

In 2010, we actually sometimes wear '80s-style clothes – but as a sort of weird fashion-joke. It's kind of hard to explain... Fortunately, it does mean you can stay in what you're currently wearing – just tell everyone that you're wearing it "ironically". (Make sure your voice goes up at the end of the sentence? Like a question?)

BEWARE
BEARDIES

Never mind the IRA and their blowing-up-a-couple-of-shops – this lot blow up just about anything including themselves. Just remember: the only good suicide bomber is a dead one.

MIAOW MIAOW

Those '80s predictions were wrong: we're not all strung out on heroin, but we have all scrambled our brains on plant-food chemicals. Oh, also: ketamine. That one's for horses, though, not plants.

Now

CELEBS

In the age before Heat and TMZ, celebs were rarely-spotted creatures – but scientists believe they did exist, albeit in primitive form. Don't forget, you've got some killer gossip on some big '80s names: George Michael is a gayer, Corey Haim is a crackhead, and Mike Jackson mutates into a noncey white lady, goes broke, then carks it from weird tablets. You should put a few quid on that.

THE HOFF
THE '80s: Strapping sex symbol, known for his irresistible ways.
NOW: Drunkard known for hilariously eating a hamburger off the floor.

Generally, the most entertaining celebs are off their teets (see Kerry Katona), constantly having a massive public boo-hoo (see Peter Andre), or believe that they're the chosen wizard-king of an ancient and imaginary alien race (see Tom Cruise).

PORN

Amber Lynn

Niki Charm

Vanessa Del Rio

Slim pickings. There's no ducking off for a quick, knee-trembling self-fumble to that Croatian facials vid you've got on your mobile – you'll have to run the red-face gauntlet and buy an actual bongo mag. And even then, there'll be no DP or FFFM action – just ladies in too much make-up pulling "ooh you startled me!" faces.

Traci Lords

Sasha Grey

We've invented something called Teh Internets, which is a magical monster that lives inside your computer and constantly shows you disgusting pornography. Quintuple anal, bozo-fisting, bronze showers – the lot. It's great. Look out for things marked 'NSFW', as that stands for 'now start fucking wanking'. Stay away from Two Girls One Cup, though. Just... stay away.

YOU WON'T BELIEVE THIS BUT...

- The British PM is an old ginger hag
- You can smoke on buses, trains, in cinemas, McDonald's, at work – pretty much everywhere...
- All of Radio 1's DJs are fat uncle-men
- Ecstasy costs £20 a pop
- All pubs close for the afternoon at about 2.30pm and don't open again until 7pm
- Prince Charles' missus looks like her on the left there

- The US president is a black guy (and the previous one had severe learning difficulties)
- You can't smoke in pubs, clubs, restaurants, shopping centres – pretty much anywhere...

- Some of Radio 1's DJs are fit sex-ladies
- Ecstasy costs £3 a pop
- We've got 24-hour drinking so, in theory, you need never be sober ever again
- Prince Charles' missus looks like 'er on the right

THE ROCK

IN THE '80s Recent headliners at Donington Park's annual Monsters Of Rock festival include Slayer, Metallica, Iron Maiden, Def Leppard, and Whitesnake.

NOW Recent headliners at Donington Park's annual Download festival include Slayer, Metallica, Iron Maiden, Def Leppard and, er, Whitesnake.

THE RAP

THE '80s Rapping is still pretty basic. You could probably win a few freestyle battling contests with rhymes like, "I'm out on the street/Not sat in a seat/I often eat meat/Or sweets, for a treat."

NOW Hip-hop's toughened right up. The biggest rappers now brag about selling coke (see Young Jeezy), shooting people in the bottom (see Lil Wayne) or even Supermanning dat ho (see Soulja Boy).

THE RAVE

THE '80s Attend an illegal '80s rave and you can sell your shocking story to the papers – they love stuff about these "drugs parties at which kiddies as young as four inject ecstasy cigarettes into their bottoms."

NOW Mixing tunes is a total piece of piss – you can make a computer do it all – but DJs still get paid rucksacks full of jewels, just for occasionally clicking a mouse. Therefore, you should probably become a DJ.

THE WALKMAN & CASSETTE

HOLDS: 20 ½ songs

INSTRUCTIONS:

Sit by the radio for hours waiting for the song you want to come on, then hit 'record' as soon as the DJ stops babbling like a chuckling wanker over the intro. Repeat until tape is full, or the ribbon comes spooling out of it like a shot World War II soldier's guts – in which case, buy a new one and start all over again.

THE IPOD

HOLDS: 40,000 songs (although you'll only ever actually listen to about 65 of them)

INSTRUCTIONS:

Trawl the corners of the internet, furtively looking for 'torrents'. Turn these 'torrents' into 'MP3s' (stands for 'Music Please, for Frees') and put them on an 'iPod'. Repeat until iPod is full, or it gets Applezheimers and goes all weird – in which case, buy a new one and start all over again.

GOODIES

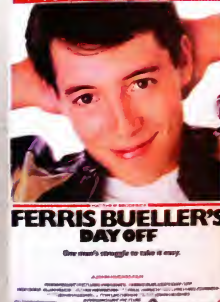

Eighties movie heroes fall into two distinct categories: wise-cracking, rule-bending smart-asses (see Ferris Bueller, Marty McFly, Indiana Jones) and livid, monosyllabic, face-punching machines (see any character played by Sly Stone or Arnie Schwartzenegger).

From watching today's big movies, you'd think that geeks had totally inherited the earth, as the butt-kicking, beauty-kissing heroes are all stammering, comic book-reading, compulsively-masturbating nerdazoids: see Aaron Johnson in Kick-Ass, Michael Cera in Scott Pilgrim or Shia LeBeouf in Transformers.

FERRIS BEUELLER'S DAY OFF (1986)

BEST BIT: Ferris gets involved in a parade going through Chicago, and lip-synchs Twist And Shout.

BACK TO THE FUTURE (1985)

BEST BIT: Marty's weaking dad George gives brutish bastard Biff a right good smack in the face.

THE GOONIES (1985)

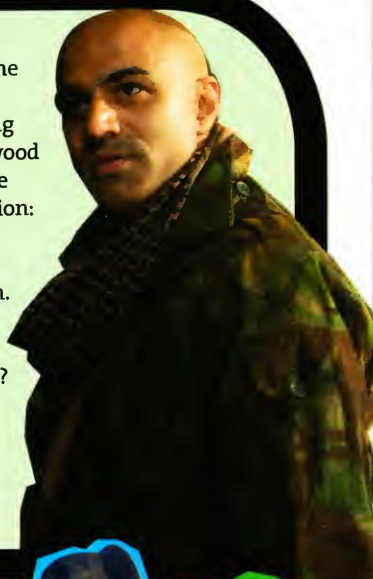

BEST BIT: Corey Feldman acting like a total awesome twat, or the scene where chubby-chops Chunk gets trapped in a freezer with a corpse.

BADDIES

If you're in the early-to-mid '80s, then the movie baddies will be dirty Russkie communists (see Dolph Lundgren's Rocky shitheel Ivan Drago). Simple as that. Later in the decade, however, you may spot the Snooty English Psycho baddie putting in an appearance (or his close cousin, the Snooty German Psycho – see Hans Gruber in Die Hard 2).

If one good thing came of 9/11 (some planes hit some towers – long story) it's that Hollywood now has a readymade baddie for any situation: the shouty, America-despising, terrorist. They fit any situation. Nuke got stolen? Terrorist-man did it! Kiddy got kidnapped? Terrorist-man did it! Beer gone flat? Terrorist-man did it! Simple.

There's actually a nudist beach in Portsmouth, which I have been passed, but it's always old people so I think it's a bit creepy. I might start a campaign to get a nudist beach for the sexy people of Portsmouth.

I: It's bad enough that people wear Speedos. There should be a rule that bans dudes wearing Speedos when they get to a certain age.

WOULD YOU RATHER SHARE THE HOLIDAY JACUZZI WITH PIG-FACED MICHAEL WINNER IN SPEEDOS, POOL-DWELLER MICHAEL BARRYMORE, OR OUR MATE VERRUCA DAVE?

H: That's a tough one. Barrymore doesn't have a good record with pools, does he? I'd opt for your gross-sounding verruca mate.

I: I don't really want to imagine Michael Winner in tight trunks, so I'll brave it with Barrymore. ▶

TIME TO ROCK AND ROLL

IF WE GIVE YOU 15 PESETAS, WILL YOU GET NAKED AND CANNON BALL INTO THE POOL RIGHT BY WHERE PEOPLE ARE ENJOYING AN EVENING MEAL?

H: I wouldn't do it sober, but I'm pretty up for a laugh if I've had a drink. I'd do it after drinking some weird foreign booze. I once downed this drink in Turkey and it actually had lizards in the bottom of it. That was weird.

WHAT OTHER HOLIDAY FROLICS DO YOU LIKE TO INDULGE IN?

I: Me and my girlfriends have a game where we have to get our boobs out in random public places. We did it in Frankie And Bennys at the airport, so that was a good one. We're so used to getting naked on ▶

BOTH FRANKIE AND BENNY WILL BE TURNING IN THEIR DELICIOUS GRAVES. SO WHAT ARE YOUR PLANS FOR THE REST OF THIS HOT-ARSED SUMMER?

H: I'm gonna go to Bestival in September and loads of little holidays. I wanna go away with all my friends on a girlie holiday.

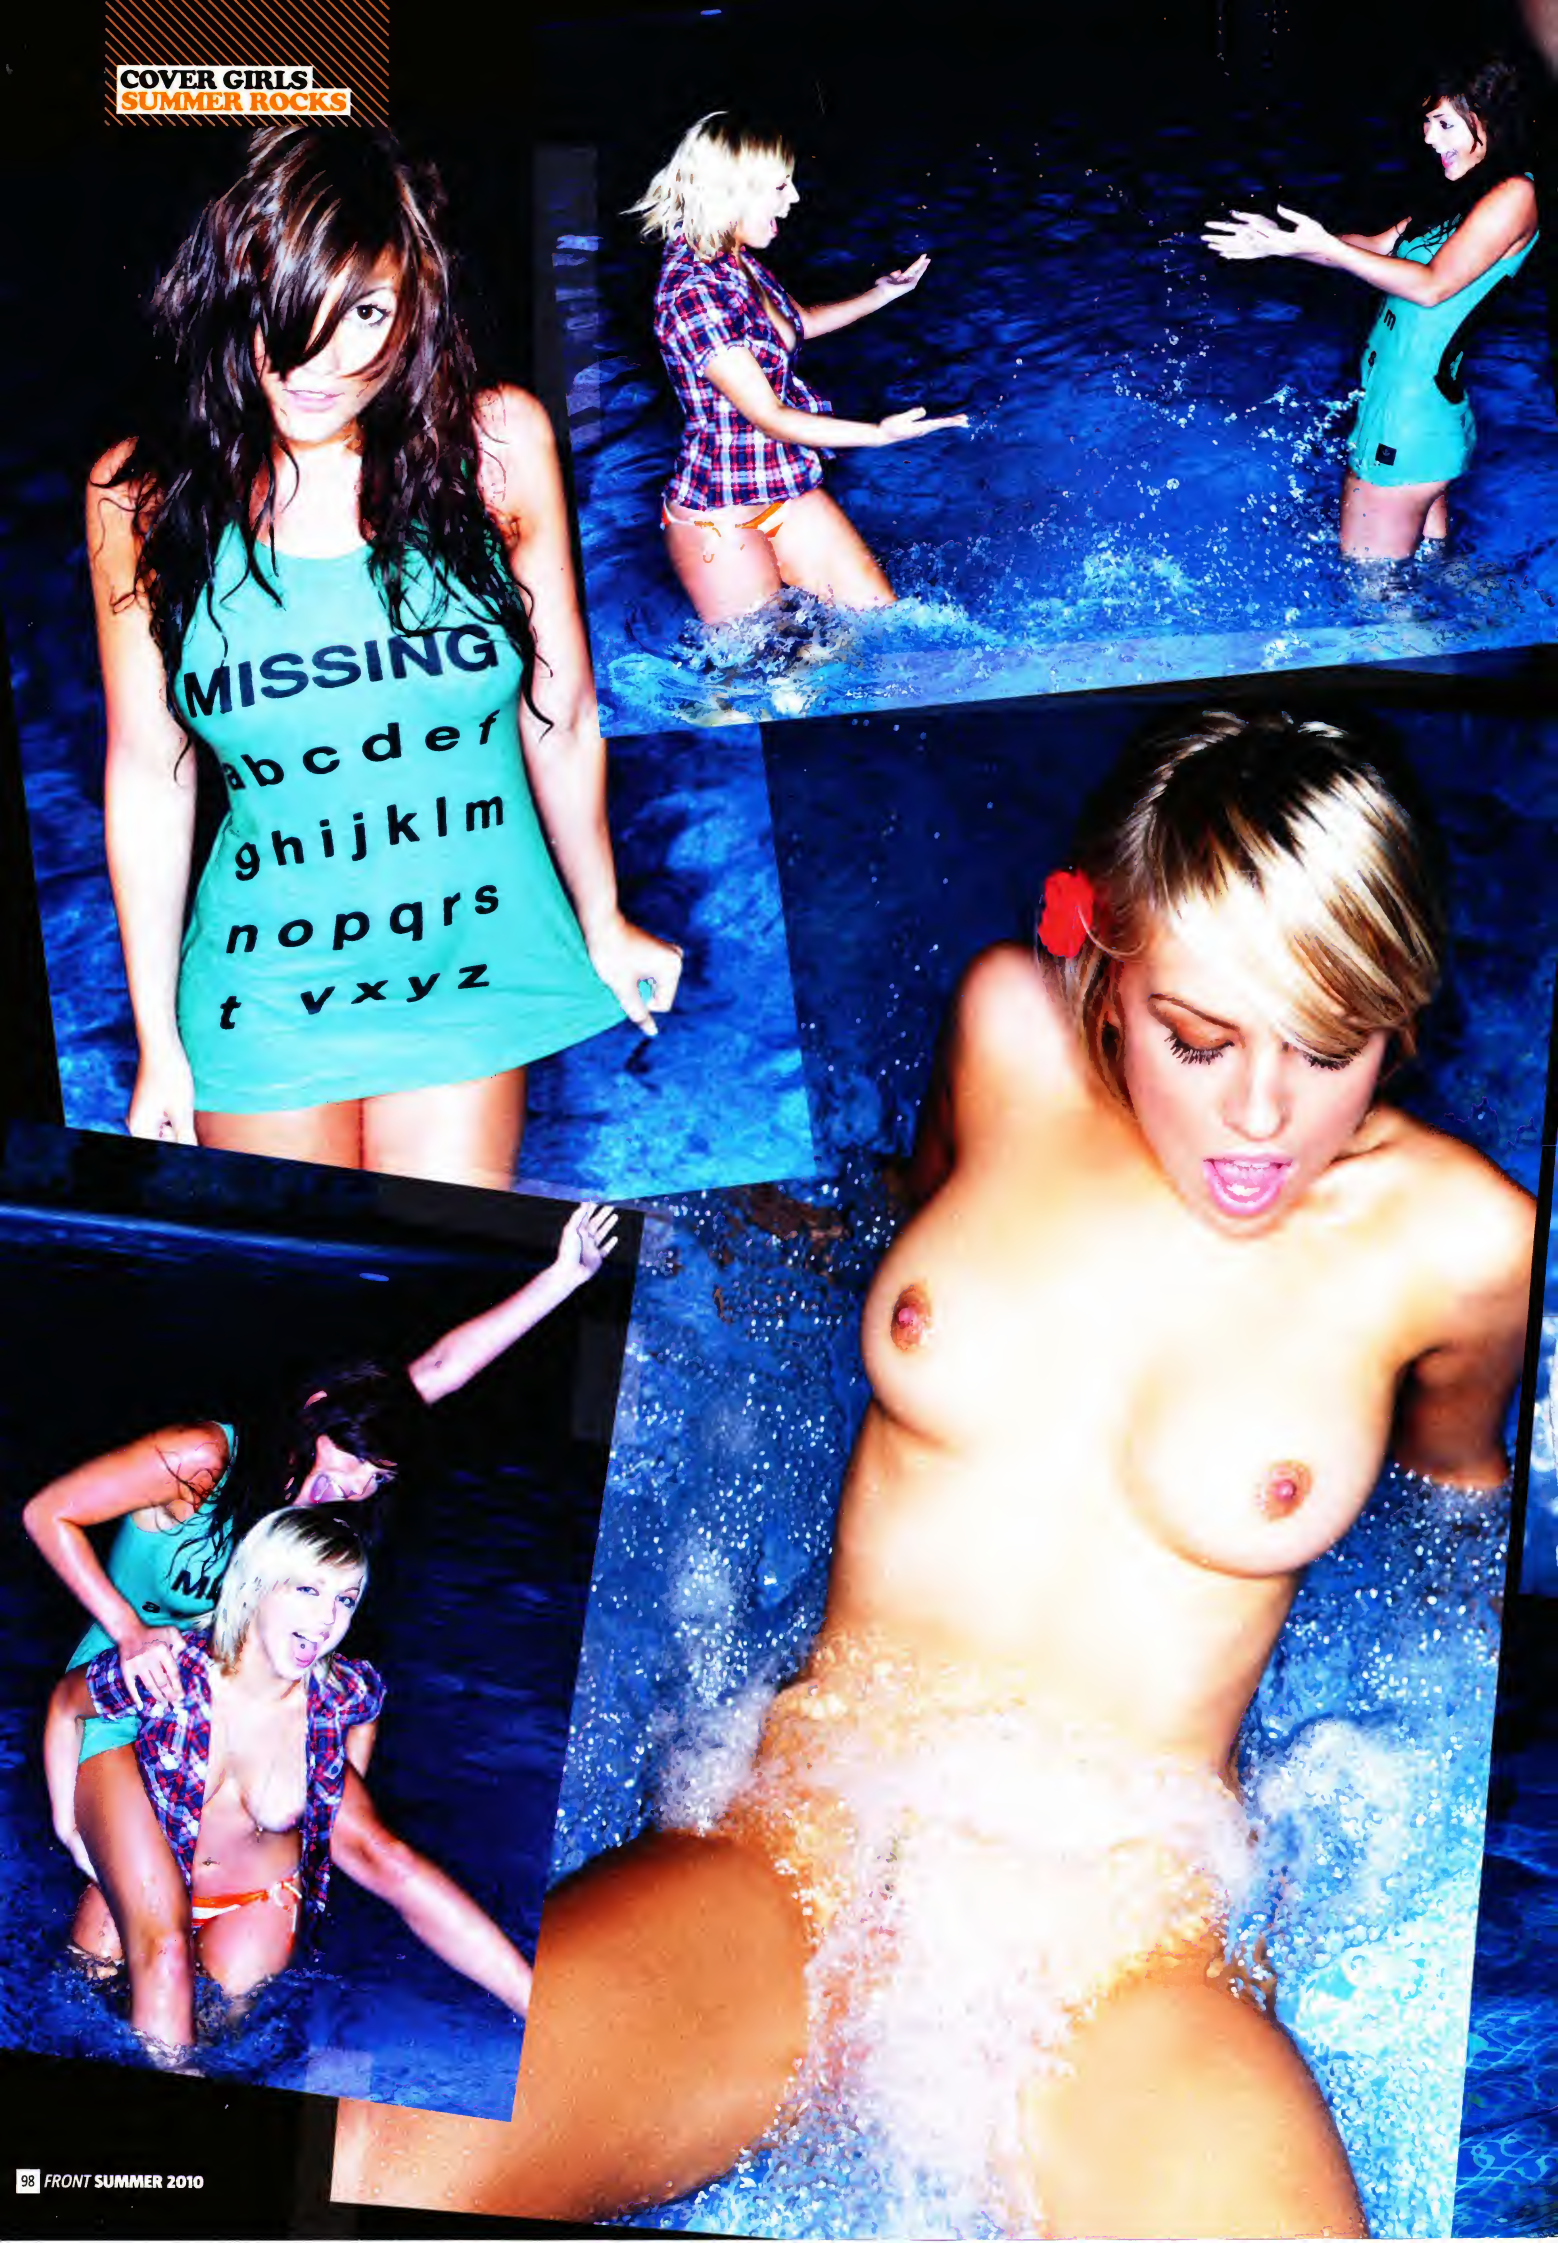

I: Reading festival, hopefully. I live pretty close, so if I'm in the country when it's on, I'm deffo gonna down and party.

OKAY, FINALLY, WOULD YOU MIND TAKING THIS BOX

I: Erm, yes. I'm sure you'll get away with that... [Laughs]

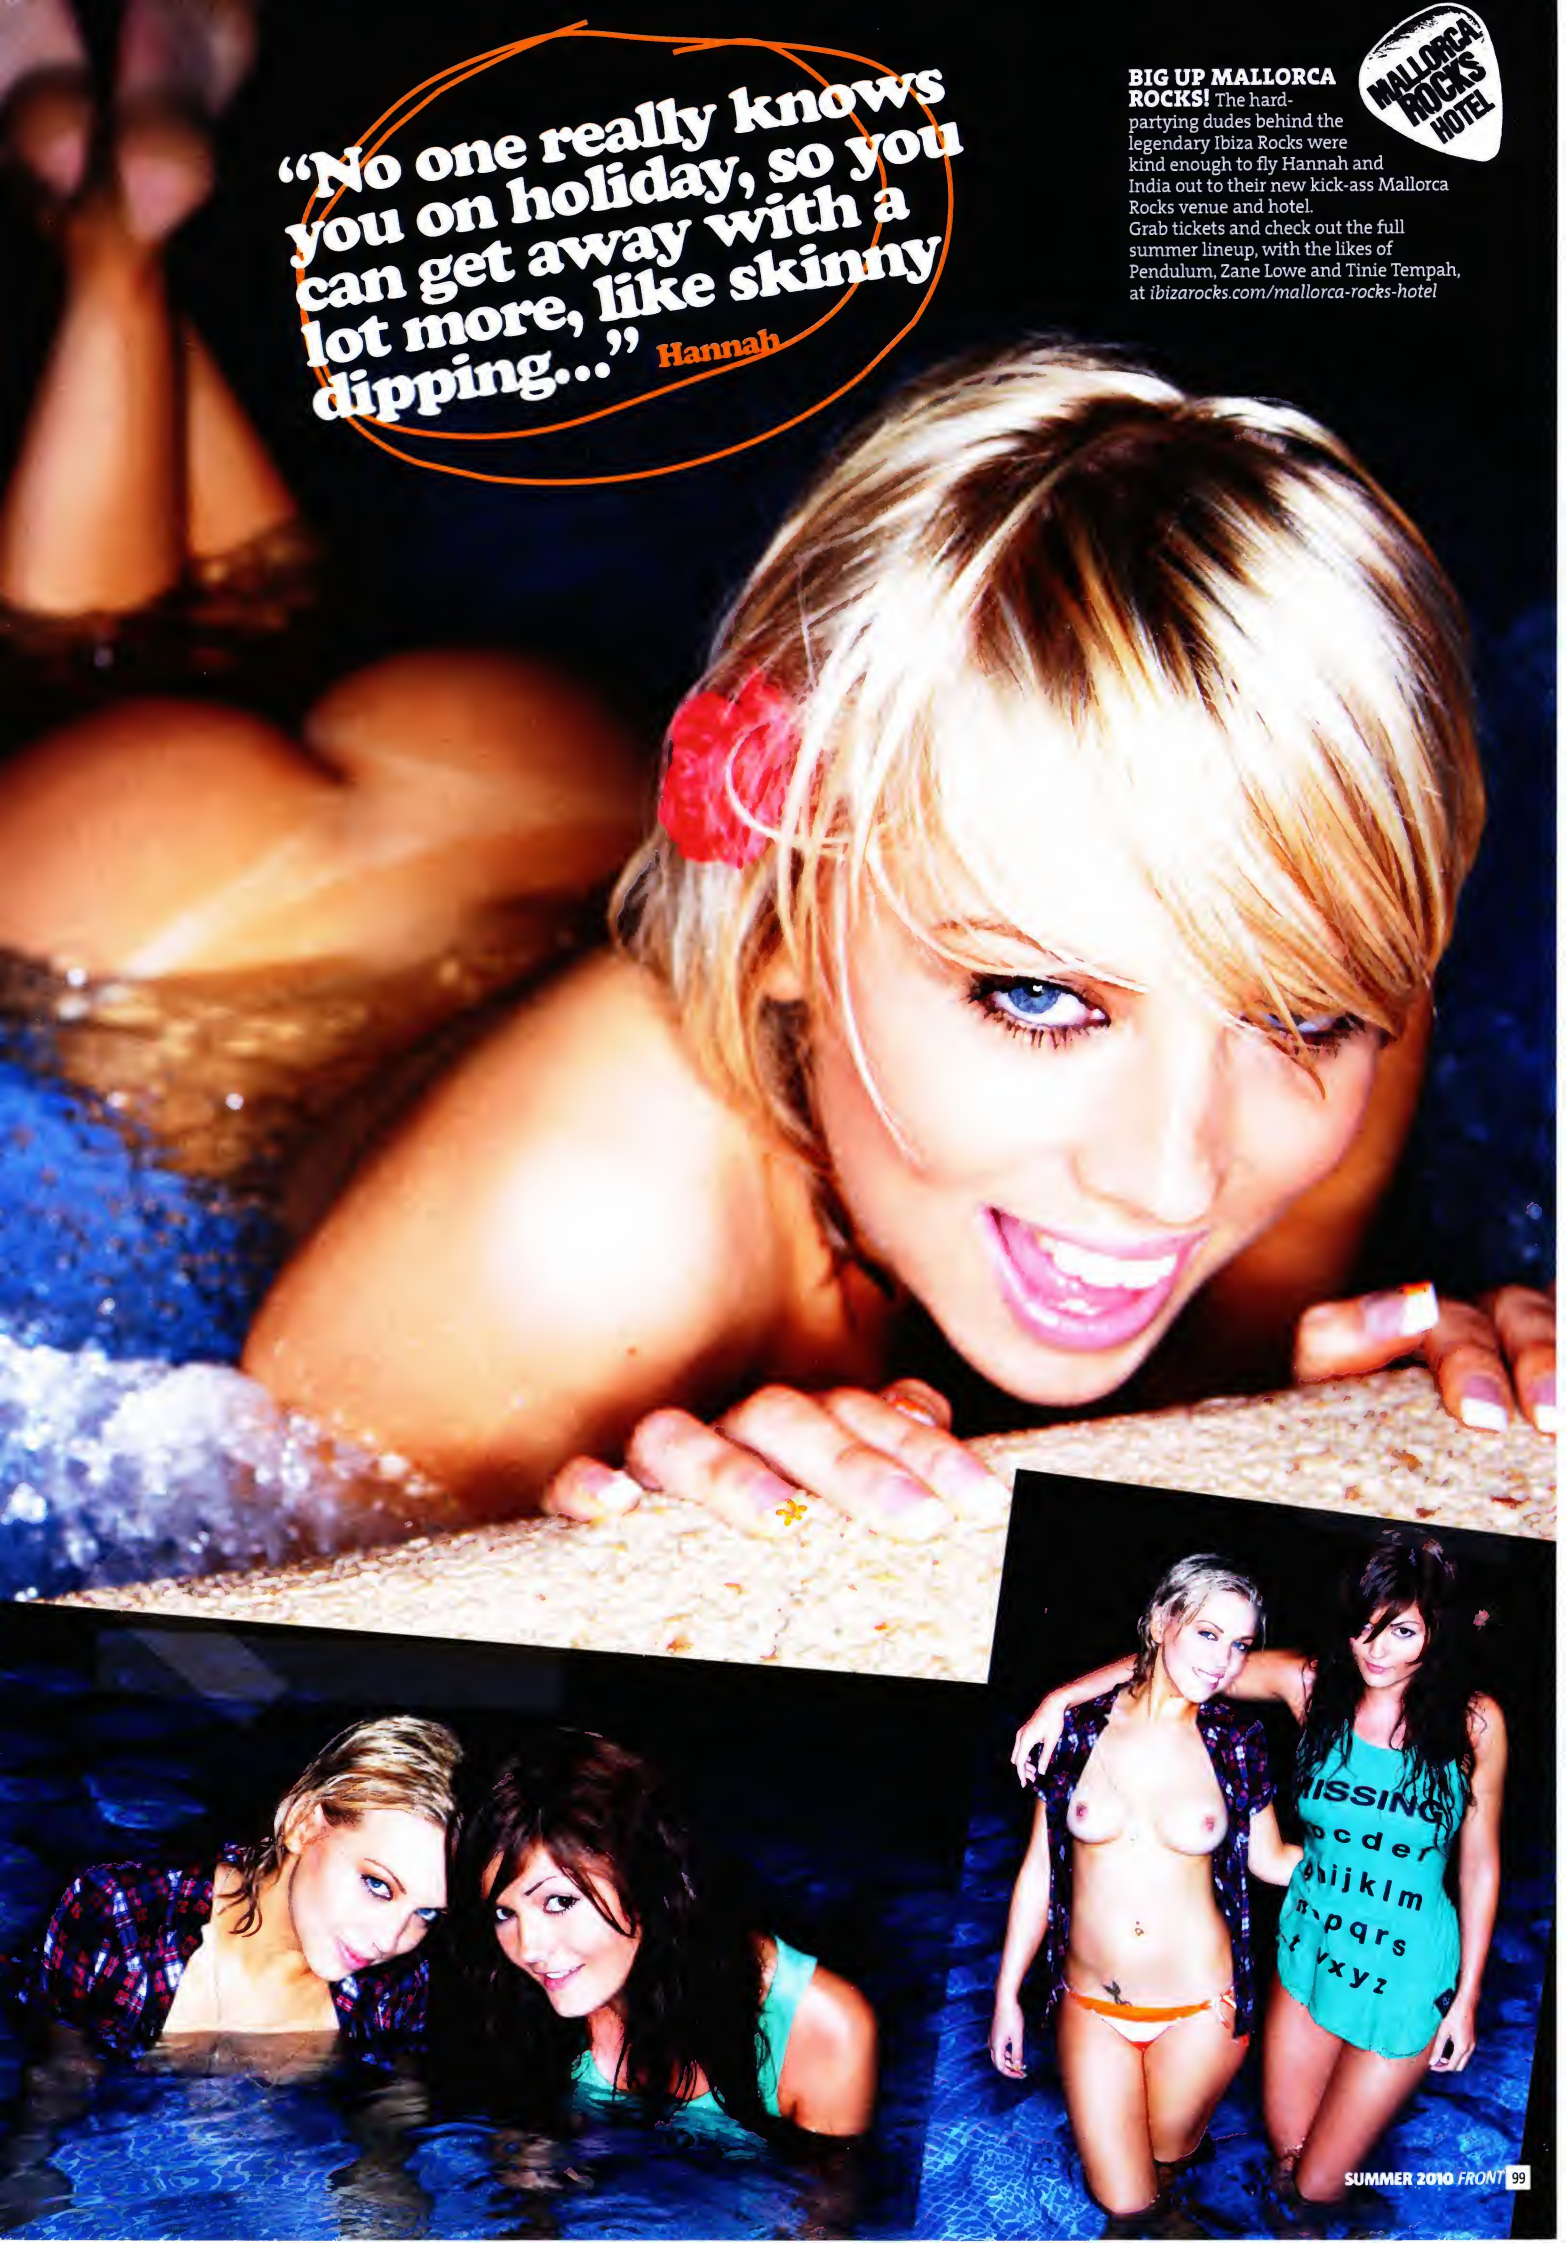

H: Sure, but I always end up getting touched-up when I go through security. The guys there seem to have a thing for blondes. Actually, the girls do too... FRONT

FRONT'S

SUM

■ Rundown 'fun centre' full of ancient arcade machines, including Space Dots, Catch The Cat, Gary Linekar's Football Simulator, Car Race and Army.

■ Mentally unstable 'local legend' who's become excited by the teeming crowds and is putting a proper show on, shouting his catchphrase ("Daddy burned the millman!") over and over and over and over again.

■ The local emo/goth/ skater-kid contingent, pretending to hate all the tourists but secretly loving having actual real-life people in the town (which has a wintertime population of 112).

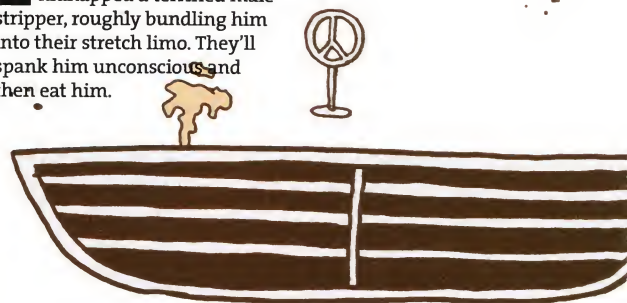

SUMMER FACTZ

The UK's three most popular summertime activities are: 1) throwing frisbees like a spacker; 2) chasing ducks about and then kissing one if you catch it; 3) waiting for Christmas.

■ A demonic hen party that's kidnapped a terrified male stripper, roughly bundling him into their stretch limo. They'll spank him unconscious and then eat him.

☐ Beaming local mayor in full regalia, being interviewed for BBC News' report on British beaches. "We've gorrit all here!" he proclaims before sitting on a used syringe.

☐ An ice cream van run by the world's most volcanically angry man with a deep, unrivalled hatred of children and suspected chronic masturbation habit. NEVER order the salty surprise.

☐ A rickety death-trap wooden pier that's buckling under the weight of a rusty rollercoaster. Remember: scream if you want to go faster – or if you're impaled on anything sharp.

☐ Desperate wannabe Californian suffers riding freezing, inch-high waves, doing their best to dodge used tampons and feral poos.

☐ Mad-eyed kids, off their tiny tits on candy floss, wielding terrifying Super Soakers that look like anti-tank guns, which can fire eight gallons a second and rupture your eyeballs.

☐ Confused and increasingly scared US tourists, who'd read on the internet that this town was "Great Britain's glittering answer to glamorous Monaco".

☐ Local radio roadshow, featuring a dead-eyed 50-year-old DJ having a heart-rending meltdown on the mic ("I could have been on the bloody One Show by now! Where does all the time go? Why aren't I married?").

☐ A gang of lads enjoying a booze-soaked seaside daytrip. Sadly, come the morning, one will be in prison, one will have lost an eye, one will have impregnated three separate women and one will wake up in Tibet.

THE GREAT
BRITISH SEASIDE

THE TRADITIONAL BEER GARDEN

■ A family having their barging holiday soured by the eye-watering view of a staggering boozelord arcing a horse-sized piss into the canal.

■ A shifty and nervous gang of 14-year-olds who are relying on their freakishly jumbo mate with a full moustache and a voice like Vin Diesel to repeatedly go in and get served for them.

■ Woo-hooing swotty sixth-formers who just got all A-stars in their A-Level results.

■ Very very very angry dog – which doesn't appear to belong to anyone – sporting a worrying pink-lipstick erection.

■ A gang of office workers who sacked work off at 10.30am to come and sit in the beer garden. Each of them has passed out and wee-weed in their trousers several times.

■ A genius magician of a man who's somehow carrying 12 pints of lager and seven bags of crisps.

SUMMER FACTZ

The UK's highest-ever temperature was recorded in Plymouth on 17 August 1976, when thermometers read a sweltering 17°C. "I nearly had to take my cardigan off!" wept a terrified local at the time.

Beardy real ale crew, quaffing back tankards of Knobbly Gargoyle and singing ye olde folk songs about maidens in cornfields or some similar gayness.

The overpowering death-honk of stale booze and heated-up piss-troughs, wafting from the pub on the gentle summer breeze. Festival-y!

SUMMER FACTZ

In Japan, summer is called "annual hot-hot sky-circle period", and as soon as it begins the Japanese retire to their beds for three months to hibernate and dream about fighting robots.

A daft child becoming gorily entangled in a horsey spring-rocker while his boozed-up parents merrily ignore his annoying wailings.

Boo-hooing spotty sixth-formers who just got all ultra-Fs in their A-Level results.

A livid bridesmaid, covered in fag-ash and spilt bitter, whose cheapskate boyfriend decided to hold their wedding reception in the beer garden.

A manslaughtering barbecue – overseen by the landlord's alcoholic brother-in-law – serving up sausages from the 1990s and burgers made out of old burgers.

Scary-ass lone man with a look in his beady eyes that says 'I like lamping strangers'.

SUMMER FACTZ

This year's trendiest holiday destination is Greece, because everyone there is very, very poor now, so you can touch their tits and their dicks and they can't say nuffin'!

SUMMER
FACTZ

GO'S FACT 12
GO's fashion editor has advised fashion-savvy gents that this summer is all about "high-heeled rubber clogs and T-shirts with drawings of Prince William's bum on them."

■ A man and a lady going right at it doggy-style, unaware (or un-arsed) that everyone can clearly see and hear them. She's on the phone to her fiancé back in the UK.

 A 1986 PC in the hotel lobby, offering an internet connection that's so slow you can only read e-mails from several years ago on it. Apparently Justin's going to leave *NSync!

□ A stray and probably rabid dog, pissing deadly foreign-dog toxins into the pool.

 Goth girl in full midnight-doom-spider dress – the poor sunphobic sod has been dragged on holiday by her heartlessly cheerful family.

 A half-built, never-to-be-completed hotel, conveniently situated next to an aromatic stream of radioactive bum-sewage.

A poorly maintained bungee-pod that's about to snap and fire Craig from Dudley all the way to the fucking moon.

■ A 50-something German couple who insist on parading their naked, floppy, barrel-like bodies around the pool, flapjack gussets and bingo-wing arse-cheeks twitching in the breeze.

COSTA DEL RESORTO

SUMMER FACTZ

From June to August, it's actually illegal to be a paedophile in the UK! It's one of those silly old Victorian laws that somehow never got repealed.

SUMMER FACTZ

The sauciest beach in the world is All-Fanny Big Tits Shaved Pubes Nudist Beach in Sydney. It's great, you should definitely go if you get the chance.

A young man tearfully gazing down his swimming shorts at the throbbing mass of weeping sores and purple warts his cock has mutated into since he shagged that girl from Leicester two nights back.

A sort-of-convincing Irish/British pub with photos of famous Brits plastered all over the walls: Queen Victoria, Adrian Chiles, the Yorkshire Ripper etc.

Sand that's already reached a flesh-stripping 870°C by 10am.

Your mum, sunbathing topless and attracting the noncey glares of lusty, semi-engorged waiters. Make it stop make it stop.

Shaky 19-year-old lads, desperately trying to Benson and Stella their galaxy-sized hangovers away and piece together exactly why they've woken up with two dead bodies in their hotel room.

Ed Hardy-wearing Italian smoothee valiantly attempting to simultaneously chat up a mum and daughter from Wigan.

SUMMER FACTZ

The season after summer is called appletum, and then it's wintertime, and then it's springle. And then it's sumfdumf again.

A Club 18-30 holiday rep on the verge of a killing spree after spending her summer dealing with weeping pissheads who've lost their keys/passports/bumhole virginity.

Two-day-old copies of UK papers (the lack of up-to-date news means that nobody here is aware that Britain is now at war with Iceland, after Iceland called the Queen a "fat skank-ass hoe").

YOUNG

BLOWING UP, BIG TIME

WITH A DEBUT ALBUM HITTING US SQUARE IN THE LUG-HOLES AND A NIFTY SLOT ON THE MAIN STAGE AT READING AND LEEDS COMING UP, 2010'S A BIG OL' YEAR FOR YOUNG GUNS. FRONT MAN GUS EXPLAINS WHAT THE FUSS IS ALL ABOUT...

HELLO, GUS, HOW THE BISCUITS ARE YOU TODAY?

All good, thanks. It's pretty weird getting used to doing full-on shoots that are just all about us, but we could get used to it. It was good of you to blow up our heads to epic proportions, too. A lot of people would say this is representative of my ego, but I like to think I'm more of a shy and retiring type. [Laughs] SO YOU'RE NOT THUGGISH ROCK STARS JUST YET, THEN? Nah, we haven't hit the big leagues yet. You can be sure that there's no legendary tour bus frolics or pissing on girls' allegations yet. We've kinda got the best of both worlds at the moment, cos we're playing really great small shows but we're also lucky enough to be getting some really great bigger support stuff, like with Lostprophets.

YEAH, HOW WAS THAT? DID THE BIG BOYS OF ROCK BULLY YOU INTO DOING ANYTHING PARTICULARLY FRIGHTFUL?

Thankfully not. Although, when we first spoke to Ian Watkins, he did say that he might have to enforce the rule that the support band have to play naked which, for a brief moment, I believed. We shat ourselves cos we thought we might actually have to play stark bollock naked. [Laughs] Nah, Lostprophets have really helped to put us on the map. They've really been a catalyst for UK bands breaking through.

SO HOW'S SHIT WITH THE DEBUT ALBUM?

It's been really fucking exciting seeing it all come together. We've been pretty hands-on with it all, so it's been cool seeing the little bits, like artwork, come together. D-Day is fast approaching, and it's been tempting to get hammered every night to prepare for it, but we've got a hell of a lot of stuff to learn and remember.

YOU GUYS ENJOY A BOOZE-TIPPLE OR TWO?

Er, we've enjoyed a few heavy nights. I'm looking at some pretty sorry-looking people right now. But, on the whole, we're just trying to keep our heads down and work. We're at this time in our career where we need to play hard and play well, and we try to remain focused. But on the rare occasion that we do get a hotel room, it does always end up in a worse state...

ON A SCALE OF ONE TO TEN, TEN BEING 'OMG AMAZING!' AND ONE BEING 'I'M NOT TOO FUSSED', HOW ARE YOU FEELING ABOUT PLAYING READING FESTIVAL?

Playing the main stage at Reading, no less!
Yeah, that's up there. It's an ► absolute dream come true. The good thing, though, is that around that time we're still gonna be playing our own shows to a couple of hundred kids a night. Keeping it real, and all that. [Laughs]

SO YOU'LL BE SHUNNING ANY VIP TREATMENT, IF INDEED THERE IS ANY...

Well, yeah. There's nothing better than being a punter at a festival. I grew up going to Reading cos it was nearby, and I remember seeing Dillinger Escape Plan there. Greg from the band shat in a bag and threw it into the crowd. Maybe one day I'll take a shit on the main stage at Reading, but it'd only be through nerves.

THERE'S AN IMAGE. OKAY, FINALLY, YOU'RE A HANDSOME CHAP. WHAT ADVICE WOULD YOU GIVE TO GENTS TRYING TO WOO A LADY?

Really? I look like I've been dragged through a hedge backwards most of the time. I'd say don't take a leaf out of my book, because I'm crap at that sort of thing – I just end up getting really drunk and making a fool out of myself. JEMINA PEARL PAINTING

KELLY: "This is Jemina Pearl from Be Your Own Pet. They're one of my favourite bands. We love strong women and cool girls like her and Hayley Williams from Paramore."

DVDs

LELE: "Lost is the most creative, amazing, confusing and addictive TV series I've ever seen. Nothing makes you think like Lost does. Man, the hours I've spent piecing everything together. Now it's come to an end, I've started to feel lost myself."

RECORDING EQUIPMENT

KELLY: "I used to write songs on a really rubbish guitar. I wrote one about going to the shop to buy mayonnaise when I was about nine. When I did songs that were a bit more serious I put them on MySpace and got e-mailed by a manager. Two weeks later I had a deal with EMI."

SICK KIDS WEBSITE

KELLY: "I started hand-making stupid slogan T-shirts and selling them on MySpace, back when slogan tees were really in – we did 'Say No To Life', 'Neek Chic', and 'Some People Call Me Steve' and then it went to the Race Man ones which I did by hand. MySpace seems to be full of spammers these days, so it's all on thesickkids.co.uk now."

KELLY
Twenty-four-year-old Kelly designs the Sick Kids' street wear line, customises denim and performs with her sister. She also blogs at sicksistersister.blogspot.com where she posts a lot of pictures of sharks.

50 CENT

KELLY: "I did that painting. We're both big fans of him and his whole mental attitude."

LELE: "When he came out, I wasn't so on it, but when I found out everything he'd been through and I got the albums and actually listened properly, I was like, 'Man, he's so sick.' And he's still such a positive, jokes person."

LELE

Also known as [SPEAKS], 21-year-old Lele was signed by EMI after putting some songs on MySpace (myspace.com/telespeaks) while working at Topshop. She's currently writing with Radio 1 man Daniel P Carter.

JACKETS

KELLY: "I basically just find good-fitting jackets for, like, a fiver on eBay, and then we customise them. You make a jacket and that might take two hours, but you sell it for a lot more than you've paid for it. It's a one-off thing. Nobody else is gonna have that same jacket."

WASTE MAN TEE

LELE: "It's great when you see other people dig our stuff, like that time when we randomly got sent a picture of the singer from Bloc Party singing on stage in a Waste Man T-shirt that he'd bought himself from a shop in Brighton. It's a real boost that people genuinely dig our stuff."

CRATES OF CLOTHES

KELLY: "It's the stockroom/warehouse. [Laughs] But it's good, honestly. I used to work in an off licence. I wouldn't wanna do anything else. To me, this is it. This is my job: I design clothes."

NES

KELLY: "We've got a NES, an N64, the Wii, and we've both got a DS. I always had a Game Boy. I really like that kind of cartoony style. Mario 2 was really shit, though."

LELE: "We're mega Mario fans. He's such an influence, even musically. [Laughs] Plus, all of the Mario games that come out now are sick. They're what kids' games should be. It shouldn't be stupid gangster shit."

LIFE IN INK

SIMON TITTLLEY OF LAVOTCHKIN

THE 25-YEAR-OLD FRONT MAN OF PUNKS LAVOTCHKIN SHOWS HIS AWESOME INK IN ALL ITS GLORY

WHALE

"I'm terrified of water and what can be underneath you without you knowing. The Moby Dick story scared the hell out of me when I first read it, and that bit in Pinocchio where they're in that tiny little boat and that huge whale is chasing them used to frighten the life out of me. I got this to remind me of my own vulnerability in the world. When you're in the water you're not at the top of the food chain any more."

LEFT SLEEVE

"This was done by [British artist] Steve Byrne before he moved to Texas. After my dad died, I was going through his stuff, and I found a £20 note which in his handwriting had 'We are kings' written on it. Steve did it in a scroll in a Japanese sort of style, cherry blossoms and clouds, because he felt it was quite a positive image. The moth is there because Steve decided the it was all a bit too happy, so he did it for balance."

OVER THE RAINBOW

"This is the first tattoo I ever got, and it sort of breaks up the rest of the sleeve. It's the lyrics from Somewhere Over The Rainbow in Sanskrit. That song was played at my parents' funerals, and it means a lot to me. I researched into Sanskrit and a lot of cultures think it's a magical language."

SHIPWRECK

"I wanted to get a shipwreck, inspired by the Brand New song, Play Crack The Sky. When I was a bit younger, it was one of my favourite songs. This is quite striking, the big black silhouette going down in flames with the oil going out into the ocean. It's even darker and grimmer than just a galleon sinking, so I thought that was quite epic. It was a painful one to get done. One of the reasons Steve Byrne's such a successful tattooist is because he can work the colour into your skin really well."

HERE'S TO SWIMMING

"I got this one because I love the film Jaws - it's probably just more issues with the ocean... But there's a good bit in the film, where they're all gearing up to fight the shark, and Robert Shaw says, 'Here's to swimmin' with bow-legged women.' I always took that as 'Who gives a shit, you know?' Whatever happens, happens. My girlfriend seems to think it means 'Here's to sleeping with women.' She hates it."

GLASSJAW

"I've got the Glassjaw logo, which looks like camouflage because it was meant to be red. Two days after having it done I played a gig and got a microphone lead wrapped around my leg and I fell forward. It literally tore the skin off."

HAPPY TRAMP

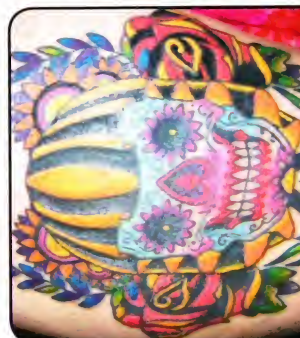

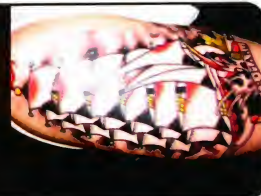

"My favourite musician in the world is [blues singer] William Elliott Whitmore, and one of the first songs I ever heard by him was a song called Lift My Jug, about a tramp who got fired from working in the mines, and the mine has done irreparable damage to his body. He has no job, no home, his body's fucked, but he doesn't care - he just makes his own moonshine and walks around pissed and happy."

AUNT AGONY

With Von

SHE DOESN'T BEAT AROUND THE BUSH
UNLESS SHE'S HAD A FEW PINTS AND FEELS A BIT PLAYFUL

I DIDDLED HIS SISTER

My best friend's sister came to my birthday party with a load of her friends. She's honestly the most gorgeous Alt Girl I've seen, and after a lot of drinks I ended up sleeping with her. I want to tell my mate but I think he will take it badly, but I also want to see her again...

Ross, via Facebook

If your mate has a buff sister, Ross, he has to expect his mates to want her. I have the same problem with my own sister, and I feel proud that all my friends really fancy her – it's a back-handed compliment, I find. What's more important in your life: your mate or dipping your love-stick into fanny heaven? Mates come and go, but fit alternative chicks are hard to find. Make it easy: take some pictures on your phone of her spread-eagled and accidentally show him. If he isn't left mentally damaged by the images, it'll only make him stronger, or something.

I WANT HER TO DRESS LIKE VON

Would you recommend anything to say to get my girl to dress like you in the sack?

Sam, Philadelphia, USA, via Facebook

As shitty as it may sound, American writer, some girls just aren't into dressing up, so you may be doomed. Why not tell her that you're throwing a Von-themed fancy-dress party? She might be a bit puzzled when she finds out she's the only guest, and that you're hosting it completely billy-bollocks naked, but at least you'll have seen her Von-ed up to the nines long enough to keep the ol' wanky-bank in credit for the next few months. LOL.

IS A CHUBSTER FAIR GAME?

Is it acceptable when going through a dry spell to sex a 'larger' girl?

Liam, via Facebook

We've all been there, Liam, even me. I find the fatties leave a weird but slightly likeable taste in your mouth, kinda like when you lick batteries as a kid. They have a tendency to try harder, too, making chubby sex some of the best sexy-times out there. Trust me. Why not try a bit of Haribo buckaroo? Tie some to a stick and hold it over them while you're going at it from behind, and you'll find they go for it like a greyhound after a fluffy rabbit. It feels great grabbing their muffin top as they squirm, too. Good luck!

CONFUSION ALL ROUND

My boy-mate Pinky keeps talking about going twos up on a Dutch rudder with me. Before I commit to anything ugly, what does he mean?

Louis, via e-mail

Twos up on a Dutch rudder is a well-known saying from Holland, Louis.

You basically put your cock in the exhaust of a small boat, while balancing your torso inside the boat, and get your mate to gently rev the engine. He jacks off with his opposite hand and you, as quickly as possible, fuck the exhaust. The first to come becomes the rudder and gets kicked off the boat into the ocean. At least, I think that was what we were doing.

#13 HOLIDAY ROMANCES

Holiday romances are the bestest romances. When you're on holiday, everyone seems way buffer – usually because they're semi nude, you're well pissed, and you can just leave the country and never speak to them again. DON'T ASSUME that your lover is female: I was in Thailand once, and pulled this seriously hot chick with one massive dick. Bit of a result for me, but a massive fail for you. Crucially, DO WRAP UP – no one wants HAIDS (holiday AIDS). DON'T ASK FOR THEIR NUMBER, cos you'll look like a weirdo, but DO HAVE SEX ON THE BEACH – just be careful of the sand, cos it'll blind your jap's eye before you can finish. Which, for you, is pretty damn quick, rumour has it.

METAL GEAR SOLID: PEACE WALKER

PSP

THE DADDY OF all stealth games returns, and we've got to say, we've missed you, Snake, you grumpy old bastard. Set in 1974 as a prequel to the original Metal Gear (and a sequel to Portable Ops), Peace Walker sees Naked Snake and his Militaires Sans Frontières pitted against a rogue CIA unit in Costa Rica on a mission to save the country and avenge the mistreatment of South American teen Pax.

Seeing as the dodgy CIA peeps are armed with a massive nuclear bomb called Peace Walker, this means Snake has his work cut for out for him, and lots of stealth action ensues. As with any MG game, the cutscenes are awesome, and the graphics are so cinematic you forget you're playing on a PSP, plus with three different control configs (action, hunter, and shooter mode) and a huge push towards co-op play, there's a gameplay style to suit everyone.

That's all great – but what about the boxes? Well, there are more cardboard boxes in this game than in a hotel for tramps, including the new 'love pack box' that accommodates two players, as well as the tank box, rescue box and bomb box. Shit-loads of boxes, then.

SUPER MARIO GALAXY 2

WII

MARIO VERSUS SONIC is a hotly debated topic in the FRONT office. For many of us, these two cheeky fuckers were the very reason we got into gaming, yet while the latest Sonic-related games have disappointed (Sonic: Black Knight anyone? No, didn't think so), Mario has largely kicked arse.

SMG2 knows better than to piss about with the format of the ace original, thankfully, and doesn't try to make things into an RPG by giving him a sword or nuffink. Instead, they've concentrated on making it intensely playable.

A giant Bowser has stolen the Princess and you have to travel round space on a giant ship exploring planets, collecting stars and fighting bosses to try and find her.

With 120-plus stars to find and over 40 stages it's huge, but it NEVER gets boring – each level is different to the next and challenging enough so you don't feel like too much of an idiot playing with a five-year-old. Not that we're suggesting you play games with kids. We're just trying (and failing) to illustrate the age-range, and now we feel we've dug ourselves into a paedo-hole but this is really fucking good.

Until you've played Demon's Souls, you haven't played shit, as this game will literally pwn your soul, chew you up, and expose you as the pansy Cooking Mama DS player you really are. Released in Japan and the US late last year, the famously impossible action RPG has finally made it over to the UK, and it really does live up to expectations. This is the hardest game you will ever play in your life, but instead of that being a minus, it's actually something that will have you harking back to your old console days, to when dying really meant GAME OVER. HERE AT FRONT, nothing gives us more joy than an awesome song title – regular readers may recall that we recently saluted hardcore kids Lower Than Atlantis for their epic song-titling triumph, I'm Not Bulimic (I Just Wanted To See How Far I Could Stick My Fingers Down My Throat). And this month we're doffing our caps to Leeds four-piece Pulled Apart By Horses, whose debut album boasts such next-level ditty-titles as Back To The Fuck Yeah, I Punched A Lion In The Throat and (our favourite) I've Got A Guestlist To Roy O'Hara's Suicide (who is Rory O'Hara and what the hell has he done to upset Pulled Apart By Horses?).

Of course, marvellous song names don't mean diddly-fart unless you also sound amazing, and PABH most defi-fuckin'-nitely do: imagine the bone-snapping fight-pop of Dananananaykroyd mixed up with the tuneless growlypunk of The Bronx. Yeah, they're quite literally that good.

STARRING: RUSSELL BRAND, JONAH HILL

COCKY-BALLS BRAND teams up with loveable tubby-tits Jonah Hill in this sorta-sequel to Forgetting Sarah Marshall. But, thankfully, this one is a bazillion miles away from that 2008 rom-com shambles.

Director/producer Judd Apatow's latest offering follows a music-label intern (Hill) as he attempts the unenviable task of getting washed-up rock bastard Aldous Snow (Brand) from London to LA for a big ol' comeback shebang. Obviously, the trip goes willy-up and involves loads of drug-fuelled prozzy encounters and whatnot. Like you do.

Brand is on one of them highs at the moment that pretty means he could poo on your freshly-made bed and you'd probably still find it funny, and he's whipped out a nifty little film here – the sort of thing that the people who gave us

Superbad and all that pull off really well. Plus, it's got a proper killer performance from P Diddy in it, and a sexy-as-kittens'-tits cameo from Christina Aguilera, too.

In season seven, David sets out to reunite the cast of '90s comedy Seinfeld, which he It's really nice when Ben Stiller makes a film that doesn't suck balls. It reminds us of how ace he is. Like, you almost forget about Night At The Museum. Almost.

In Greenberg, Stiller is a man on the brink of a mid-life crisis, and the flick follows his japes as he tries to grow the fuck up and sort things out.

It all has a bit of an arty-indie feel to it, and has more of a slick Royal Tenenbaums (another Stiller classic) vibe than the big-ass cheesy Zoolander stuff. When the Sierra was launched in 1984, many thought it looked a bit gay. But all that changed when the motorsport division slipped a few quid to Cosworth Racing to give it a pair of big hairy gonads. The RS500 had a 225bhp turbo lump, aggro bodykit and the legendary whale tale rear spoiler. It went like fuck, won loads of touring car races and men from Essex did a spunk on their stone-washed jeans over it.

THE FRONT MANIFESTO

NO FAKE BOOBS

That's right, readers: all boobs in FRONT are as real as the air we breathe. Whether they're part of a lovely lady or hanging from a fat sweaty dude, they're bona fide genuine and will not explode at high altitude.

FRONT IS NOT A LADS' MAGS

Lads' mags are, like, so 1994 – a gentler time before global terrorism, when you could leave a £50 note in a pub and it would still be there a week later (with interest). FRONT is a mag for true legends, who when staring death in the face shake it by the hand and proclaim, "Gaylords say what?"

THE INDEPENDENT MAG

FRONT is not owned by some evil corporation, although sometimes we wish it was because then we might have toilet paper in our bogs. On the plus side, it means we don't have to listen to people in suits telling us to put Mika felching a disabled donkey on the cover. We listen only to you, our semi-deranged-yet-genius readers.

WE HEAR YOUR PAIN

Your comments, letters, e-mails and texts: we fucking love 'em all. Whether it's through the mag or on the website, tell us what you want to see in FRONT and we'll pull out our finger and get it done. We won't even stop to wipe the sweetcorn bits off first.

CUNTS

THE FIRM-BUT-FAIR PAGE THAT SORTS THE RAGING ARSEHOLES
FROM THE MINOR WANKERS

DAPPY

Dappy from N-Dubz is a retarded, can't-wear-a-hat-properly, no-talent skinny cunt-head. Don't wear a tracksuit unless you're exercising or expecting massive weight gain, you cunt. Now piss off and get out of the gene pool for those who deserve to be in it.
Joe Best, Basingstoke
You know what, Joe? We like Dappy, as he's a funny dude with a cavalier attitude to headwear, but recently he's been edging into silly cuntdom – getting thrown out of Alton Towers for weed only a day after apologising on GMTV for miaow miaow seems like the behaviour of a daft cunt. In at ten!

WESTWOOD

Tim 'Cunty McCunt' Westwood is a complete waste of breath. Seriously, how long will I have to wait until he fucks off with his cuntish large hand gestures? Don't even get me started on his dress sense – the man is pushing 50 yet still dresses like a 17-year-old wannabe. What a magnificent cunt, or as the Spanish would say, El Cuntio Magnifico!
Anonymous, via text
Sorry, nameless phone-owner, but we've been through this before. Westwood's an utter prat, but no cunt is he. He's too funny to be a cunt, and everyone knows the way to make any song sound better is to blast an air-horn every ten seconds.

STONE

Why the fuck is that king of cunts Andrew cuntng Stone from Pineapple Cunt Studios not at the top of The Cuntdown? This untalented megalomaniac pile of regurgitated turd tops all the greats – Howard, the Go Compare man, even country-fucking Tony Blair – in cuntly insignificance to this big-timing-no hope "triple threat" cunt.
Anonymous, via text
Fucking right, anonymous texter, Stone's a disgraceful misguided fuck-stick of a shit-cunt. To be honest, his hair alone could make it to The Cuntdown. In at one, Stone, y'cunt.

BRUM

That fucking bright yellow car Brum from the old kids' telly show is a fuck of a cunt. He acts all fucking innocent when he's all locked up in his garage, then just leaves at his own cuntng pleasure with no tax or fucking insurance to roam around the streets at night to fuck everyone's shit up. What a cunt of a car. Seriously.
Anonymous, via text
First off, you slack motherfuckers really need to start putting names on when you text us. Secondly, fuck Brum. Arrogant shiny yellow fucking cunt of an auto-twat.

WHO'S MISSING?

Give us a cunt! Who riles you to the point of frantic violence? Put your anger into words and let FRONT spread your spite across the land.

Paolo Nutini is just the biggest motherfucking cunt I've ever seen in my whole life. I mean, what's up with his name? And why the fuck is he singing in that Jamaican accent? Don't get me wrong, I like the Jamaicans, but that cuntng twat ain't one. Fuck you, Paolo, you massive cunt.

Thanks, Steel Heartista, you've just reminded us that Paolo fucking Nutini exists. We'd just about managed to forget about the crooning dick, and being reminded of his existence leaves us with no choice but to fling the fucker back onto The Cuntdown. Fucking shit-heel. Cunt.
